Federal Tax Receipts at Record High

Total 32 Per Cent Higher Than in 1950

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Federal tax collections totaled a record smashing $50,386,682,228.60 in fiscal 1951, which ended June 30, the internal revenue bureau announced today.

That was a solid 15 per cent gain over the previous record high of $43,800,387,575.90 in wartime fiscal 1945; 32 per cent above the $38,957,131,768 collected in fiscal 1950.

And it was 19 times more than the government collected only 17 years ago, in 1934—$2,640,603,828.

Income at New High

Individual income tax collections reached an unprecedented $26,302,461,995.91 in 1951, running 25 per cent above the previous record of $20,997,780,699 set in 1948. In fiscal 1950, personal income tax collections totaled $19,574,747,452.

Corporate income and profits taxes jumped to $14,358,670,915.48 from $10,854,351,108 last year, but fell short of the $16,027,212,826 peak reached in fiscal 1945.

Miscellaneous internal revenue, chiefly from excise (sales) taxes, pushed to a new high of $9,488,584,621.95, compared with $8,304,897,891.63 in fiscal 1950.

2 Billion Refunded

Collections by the revenue bureau ran higher than net budget receipts of $48,142,604,532, partly because they included $236,964,695.26 in unemployment insurance levies, which are not counted in the budget, and partly because the government had to return more than $2,000,000,000, chiefly as refunds to individuals on tax over-payments through payroll withholdings.

The upsurge in tax collections was primarily responsible for the fiscal 1951 budget surplus—excess of income over outlays—amounting to $3,509,782,624.

Biggest contributor among the states and territories was New York which paid $9,163,210,042 into the federal treasury, as compared with $7,215,466,536 the year before.

Smallest contributor was Nevada, which has the fewest residents of any state in the union. Nevada was credited with paying $47,478,246 last year. The year before, Nevada collections totaled $35,446,339.

Some of the larger contributors and their totals for 1951 and 1950 fiscal years included Illinois —$4,313,227,234 in 1951 and $3,396,892,658 in 1950.

The others with 1951 figures given first include: Indiana—$1,195,460,954 and $973,283,542; Iowa —$437,643,616 and $345,223,492.

Wisconsin — $962,300,915 and $758,371,637.

Plane, With 31 Passengers Aboard, Lost

VANCOUVER, B. C., (AP)—A Canadian Pacific Airlines passenger plane carrying 31 passengers is unreported on a flight from Vancouver to Anchorage, Alaska, officials said today. The plane was last heard from at 12:12 a. m., PST.

The plane, a Dakota DC4, was to have reported again at 1 a. m. but has not been heard from.

Unofficial indications are that the plane may be down in the Alaska panhandle area.

C. P. A. officials said the plane was on the Korean air lift and that most of the passengers were American personnel.

Negro Parolee Admits Role In Abduction

Local Officials Get Signed Statement of Man Held in Chicago

CHICAGO — Hurtis Rowland, 23, formerly of Dixon, admitted yesterday participating in a kidnap-robbery in Dixon May 29, according to State's Attorney Morey C. Pires. Rowland is in the custody of Cook county authorities for robbery.

Rowland, who first refused to admit any connection with the Lee county crime, broke down under questioning Friday afternoon and signed a statement admitting connection with the offense in Dixon.

He was indicted by the Lee county grand jury June 29 along with Alex Eugene Mercer Jr., 22, and Wayne Kenkrick, 19, for robbery, kidnaping and larceny of a motor vehicle.

On Probation

Rowland was on probation from the prison at Pendleton, Ind., at the time of the offense. In Cook county he has been indicted on three counts of armed robber. He allegedly held up two insurance salesmen and a lingerie shop. The gun allegedly used in the Dixon hold-up and kidnaping has been recovered. It is a 9 millimeter Luger pistol.

In his statement he told how he eluded capture at Western Springs when Kendrick and Mercer were arrested with the car stolen in Dixon. The auto was property of Pfc. Ed Wells, 19, Rt. 3, Sterling, one of the kidnap victims. After robbing Wells and Miss LaVonne Falk, 18, of 711½ Peoria av., taking them for a two hour "ride" and leaving them at a hog house outside Dixon, the three Negroes drove toward Chicago.

Stopped At Western Springs

On the way the car had a flat tire. They put on the spare and drove on. Near Western Springs they had a second flat tire. At a service station they woke the attendant and attempted to buy a tire. Rowland stated he was in the rest room inside the station when officers in a police cruiser spotted the stolen car parked outside. They arrested Kendrick and Mercer in the car as Rowland fled through the weeds. A gun holster was found near the station.

Chicago First

State's Attorney Pires said today he does not believe Lee county will be able to get Rowland before he faces the armed robbery charges in Cook county. However, he can be returned here to face the indictment even though he has been sentenced in Cook county.

His two alleged companions, Kendrick and Mercer, are being held in the county jail under $7,000 bond each.

KING ASSASSINATED—Israeli monitors reported that the Jordan radio had announced the assassination of King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan. Abdullah flew from Jerusalem to pray at his father's tomb. As he was entering the mosque, it was reported, an unidentified man stepped from behind a door and shot him.

King's Slaying Heralds Unrest In Middle East

JERUSALEM, (AP)—The shots which killed Jordan's King Abdullah echoed throughout the tense and turbulent Middle East today.

Although it was still too early to say definitely what the results of his death would be, veteran observers feared it heralded serious troubles in this portion of the globe.

A dynastic struggle for succession to Abdullah's throne and a renewal of the Palestine war were seen as possibilities. The drama will be played out before the eyes of Soviet Russia watching the Middle East cauldon from its strategic spot to the north.

Shot by Arab

The tiny, 69-year-old Abdullah was shot by an Arab yesterday noon as he entered the mosque of Omar in the Arab-held old city here to pray at the tomb of his father. The mosque marks the spot from which the prophet Mohammed is said to have ascended to heaven on his white horse. Abdullah claimed direct descent from the prophet.

An official announcement identified the assassin, who was shot down immediately by the king's bodyguards, as a 21-year-old Jerusalem Moslem tailor named Mustapha Shukry Ashsho. The Arab News Agency said he was a member of the sabotage squad of an underground terrorist group called the "Sacred Struggle Organization."

Friend of West

Abdullah, staunch friend of Britain was counted on by the West to maintain some semblance of order in the Middle East. Britain and the United States also hoped, through him, to obtain final peace in the Arab-Jewish quarrel over Palestine.

The murdered king's personality was the force that made Jordan a strong power among Arab countries, even though his small country was so poor it depended on British subsidies to keep going.

His desert Arab legion stood as the West's firmest friendly military unit in the entire Arab world.

Under Control

The British-run legion apparently had the situation in Transjordan under control for the present.

A tug of war between British and anti-British inflences appears imminent, however, over succession to the crown.

Korean Peace Talks Delayed By Communists

Want Time to Study Agenda Proposals; Watch Troops Mass

MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP) —Korean cease-fire talks at Kaesong were recessed today until July 25 at Red request.

The Communists said they wanted the recess "to enable both sides to study the proposals thus far presented.

After today's meeting Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief United Nations negotiator, flew to Tokyo to confer with United Nations supreme commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Newsmen there asked him if things were going all right and he replied: "I guess so." He had no further comment.

Joy was accompanied by Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke, two other members of the allied five-man negotiating team.

Craigie, in a happy mood, told the Tokyo correspondents: "I can't tell you anything and I wish I could tell you more."

Return Monday

The delegates will return to the allied peace camp here on Monday.

United Nations headquarters in Tokyo said in a statement the U. N. command agreed to the temporary halt in the talks "although it sees no need for such a recess in view of the agreement reached thus far on points it considers necessary for an agenda."

A question not immediately answered was: Did that mean that not many points had been agreed upon?

Or did it mean that negotiations had been progressing so smoothly and agreeable that the United Nations delegates saw no reason for any backward looks?

Reds Need Time

At Eighth army headquarters, Associated Press Correspondent Nate Polowetzky said there was speculation that Communists needed time to receive further instructions to deal with the UN delegation's adamant stand against withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

Today, for the first time, the United Nations command disclosed officially that the "basic" issue between the two delegations was the Communist demand for withdrawal of all foreign troops as a condition to a cease-fire.

The recess came at a time of ticklish military developments in Korea.

Gain Build-up Time

For more than seven weeks, the Communists have had time to re-

Tank Car Fumes Explode, Two Are Injured

CHICAGO, (AP) — Two men were burned seriously early today when petroleum fumes exployed in a railroad tank car adjacent to a chemical plant.

Police received reports of an explosion and went to the plant. They said they found the plant in full operation with no attendants. Lights were lit, pumps were operating, large vats bubbling and no one was around, police said.

Then Cecil Blue of Chicago, another technician, arrived and said he had taken the two men to the hospital.

Blue said the men had lowered a light bulb into the car in preparation for cleaning. He blamed a spark from a defective wire or from the light bulb for igniting the fumes.

Wins Scholarship

Wendell J. Thompson, Stewart, is the winner of the Wright Scholarship at the University of Illinois, university officials announced today.

Thompson was one of 235 persons awarded special scholarships. The scholarships raneg from free tuition to $500 a year. The award was made for one year and may be renewed if satisfactory grades are maintained.

Hold 'Friend of the Family' For Slaying of School Girl

BULLETIN

CHAMPAIGN—(AP)—A charge of murder was filed today against a thrice-married ex-cab driver in the rape-slaying of Janet Clark, 17.

CHAMPAIGN—(AP)—A 34 year old married man was held by police today and a Champaign county official said he was to be charged with murder in the rape-slaying of Janet Clark, 17, a high school senior.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Middleton said the murder charge would be filed later today against Pete Parmer, a friend of the Clark family.

Middleton's announcement follower four hours of questioning by police and two lie detector tests for Parmer at the Illinois state bureau of criminal identification and investigation in Springfield.

Middleton said the lie tests disclosed that "Parmer was lying in his story maintaining innocence." He refused to discuss details of the tests.

Plenty of Evidence

"We got plenty of evidence," Middleton told reporters in Springfield. "A charge of murder will be placed against Parmer."

Parmer was questioned by police for several hours yesterday after his wristwatch, with a broken strap, was found near the brutally beaten, stabbed and nude body of the pretty high school senior.

He denied killing the girl, but admitted, police said that he had been to the Clark home yesterday morning. He also admitted having been to the Clark home Thursday night, visiting with Miss Clark's father, Paul. He said he left the watch at the Clark home Thursday night.

Called at Home

Police said Parmer told them he went to the Clark home yesterday morning looking for Clark. He told police he talked to Janet through the door and went away without entering the house after she told him her father had gone to work. Clark's wife is dead.

Parmer, who works for an insulating firm, lives about six blocks from the Clark home. Police said his wife is out of town on a vacation trip. The Parmers have no children.

Clark said his daughter was asleep in an upstairs bedroom when he left for work about 8 a. m. Police estimated the dark-haired school girl was slain about 9 a. m. She was found with about 45 stab wounds in her body and a necktie knotted around her throat about 9:30 a. m. by a neighbor.

Signs of Struggle

Police said the Clark living room showed evidence of a struggle. Two tables were overturned, the rug was rumpled, a lamp broken and a large glass ash tray shattered. However, there was no evidence of violence in the father's downstairs bedroom where the girl's body lay.

Police said most of the stab wounds were in the girl's chest and they apparently had been made by a leather awl, similar to an ice pick which was found in the bedroom.

Dr. Max Appel, Burnham city hospital pathologist, said Miss Clark had been raped, her heart punctured by one of the stab thrusts and that she died from hemorrhage and shock. She also had been beaten, Dr. Appel said.

Find Blood

Dr. Appel said that human blood was found on Parmer's trousers and on a handkerchief in his pocket. The amount of blood, he said, was too small for an analysis as to type.

Parmer agreed to take the lie detector tests after his father, Andrew, and his attorney, Ray F. Dobbins, advised him. Dobbins accompanied him to Springfield late last night.

Thieves Get $275 in Cash During Night

Gain Entrance to Lee County Grain Co. Through Window

STEWARD—A safe in the office of the Lee County Grain association was blown open sometime last night and $275 in cash taken.

Sheriff Charles H. Redebaugh who investigated today said the safe cracker entered the building through a window and ransacked a desk in the office in addition to blowing open the safe. Nothing was taken from the desk, Redebaugh said.

The grain company is located on the outskirts of Steward but no neighbors reported hearing the explosion which dislodged the safe door. The type of explosive used has not been determined.

The burglarly was discovered when workers came to the office about 7 a. m. today.

Hanging By Hinge

Ray Johnson, manager of the association, said today the safe door is "hanging by a hinge." The force of the explosion ripped two holes in an inside wall, according to Johnson. Papers and other articles in the safe were not distrubed.

The company office closed at 5:30 p.m. Friday. Jim Richardson, an employe was the first man to arrive this morning and discovered the burglary. The safe was not inclosed in a wall. It s of all-steel constructon, Johnston stated.

Wire Factory Strike Now In 5th Day

The union walkout at the Reynolds Wire division of the National Standard company went into its fifth day Saturday with "nothing new" reported by union representatives.

No labor-management meetings have been set, according to William Lee, Jr., local president of the local of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO. He said he had not heard of any workers returning to their jobs despite an announcement by the company that the plant is "open" to anyone wishing to return to work.

The strike, unauthorized by the union, began Tuesday and is apparently caused by adjustments in incentive pay in the weaving department reportedly made while the plant workers were on vacation.

These adjustments, union sources claim, were in violation of provisions of the union contract which expires next March.

Here's Glance at Controls Bill Passed by Legislature

Editor's Note: For another story concerning house action on the controls measure see page 6.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Here's a brief look at the house bill, passed early today, to extend wage, price and other economic controls for one year.

The bill would:

1. Allow a 20 per cent increase in rents over July, 1947, levels.

2. Increase the pay-off time for both new and used cars, bought on the installment plan, from 15 to 21 months.

3. Reduce down payments on household appliances from 25 to 15 per cent and lengthen the pay-off period from 15 to 18 months. The trade-in vlue of an old appliance could be used as part of the down payment.

4. Reduce down payments on household furniture and floor coverings from 15 to 10 per cent, with 21 instead of 15 months to pay.

5. Allow homes costing up to $10,000 to be bought with only a 10 per cent down payment, with 25 years to pay off the mortgage.

The bills also: Contains a ban on imports of fats and oils, peanuts and dairy products for two years; keeps the 10 per cent beef rollback in effect, but bars any further reduction: allows a 10 per cent rollback in the prices of some other farm products; and refuses President Truman the authority to acquire and operate defense plants or to license businesses.

All these actions are subject to change by a house-senate conference committee.

That's where the bill goes next. The conference committee will iron out differences between the house bill and the senate bill. The latter extends controls for only eight months.

After that, the bill goes back to house and senate for a vote on the compromise, or conference, measure.

Britain Acts to Bar Visit of A-Bomb Scientist to Moscow

LONDON—(AP)—Britain announced she had cancelled the passports of a British atomic expert who had planned a trip to Moscow and of a foreign office official.

A foreign office spokesman indicated the action came as a result of a strict re-screening of British security officials after the disappearance of two British diplomats last May.

The spokesman said "the scientist, a lecturer at a university, and the foreign office official were British-born."

The spokesman said the foreign office has been suspended from duty. He declined to say what foreign office rank the official held or give any indication of his job.

Neither of the men was identified.

Request Vigilance

The spokesman said the home office has been asked to instruct immigration authorities to report any attempt of the two men to leave the country.

The spokesman said the atom scientist was notified Thursday that his passport had been cancelled and he was asked to return it. The passport has not been returned as yet to the foreign office and immigration authorities have been ordered to impound it if the scientist attempts to use it.

"This action was taken because it was not considered in the national interest that this gentleman should make his proposed journey to Moscow at this time," the spokesman told his regular daily news conference.

He told questioning newsmen that the scientist was in possession of valuable scientific knowledge but the spokesman refused to say exactly what the knowledge was.

The passport of the foreign office official was withdrawn "as the result of certain inquiries."

The spokesman said that the cases of the two men were not connected and it was pure coincidence that the action against the two came at about the same time.

Steelworkers on Strike at H. D. Conkey, Mendota

MENDOTA, (AP) — Production at the H. D. Conkey manufacturing plant in Mendota was halted yesterday by a walkout. Some 350 employes were affected.

A spokesman for the company, which manufactures articles such as furnaces and farm implements, said the walkout resulted from a reprimand to a welder who was away from his station.

A spokesman for the CIO United Steelworkers said a wage dispute led to the walkout. Current wage scales were not announced.

12 Indicted by Federal Grand Jury for Mississippi Job-Selling

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—A dozen Mississippians, some of them leaders of the pro-Truman faction in the state, are under federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to sell federal jobs in Mississippi.

Among them are Clarence E. Hood, deposed acting National Democratic committeeman from Mississippi; Frank Mize, brother of U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize and chairman of the pro-Truman Democratic committee in this state; Curtis Rogers, secretary of the committee; and Forrest Jackson, committee counsel.

Special Assistant U.S. Attorney Ben Brooks of Washington, who announced the indictments here last night, said that Rogers and Jackson, in addition to the counts charging conspiracy to seel federal jobs, are charged also with job selling and perjury.

The twelve defendants were covered in 12 bills of indictment, returned by a grand jury after an eight-day session.

In the event of conviction, a count of conspiracy to sell federal jobs carries a one-year imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both. Brooks defined a conspiracy to sell federal jobs as a plot to violate a misdemeanor statute, calling for a comparatively light sentence.

The actual sale of a federal job is punishable by a similar sentence—one year imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both.

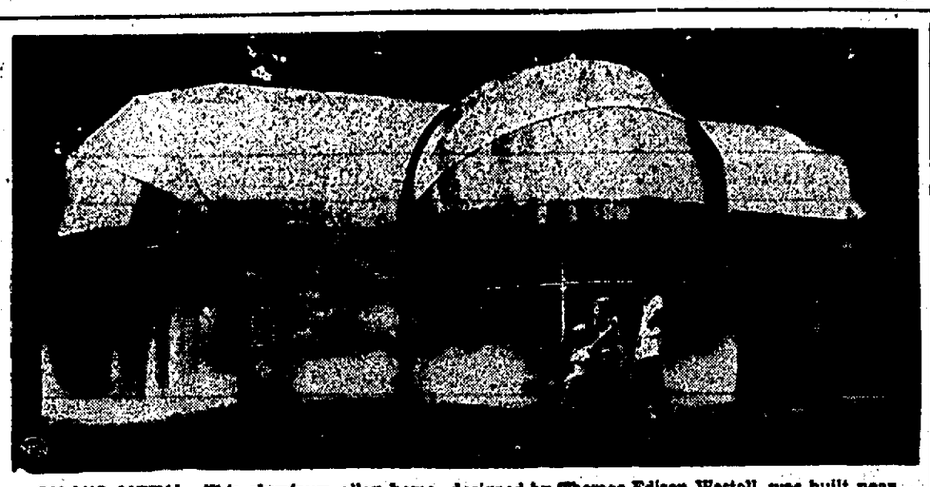

The perjury count is a felony, punishable by five years imprisonment or $2,000 fine, or both.

Think of Heating During Summer

Your heating system probably is the farthest thing from your mind these warm, summer days, but give a thought to last winter. Was your heating system doing all it should in providing trouble-free comfort? If not, contact your heating contractor now and avoid the rush which always occurs at the first hint of frost.

Give a thought, too, to your room heating units. They may be causing the trouble if heat is slow coming up. Many home owners in recent years have replaced cast iron radiators with convector-radiators throughout their homes. Convectors are smaller, more decorative and they transfer heat much more swiftly. Their small size and light weight makes them inexpensive to install, and they add a modern living note to your home.

ON HIS METAL—This aluminum alloy home, designed by Thomas Edison Westall, was built near Marion, N. C. Said to be dustproof because all air entering the house is filtered by air-conditioning units, it has cornerless rooms, curved windows of transparent plastic and floor space equivalent to that of the average five-room, conventional house.

Preserve Rustic Furniture

Now that you've been sitting around in your garden chairs for a while, soaking up the sun and cold lemonade, you're likely to notice that the summer furniture isn't quite as spruce looking as you thought it was when you lugged it out of winter storage.

Or maybe you've finished building the lawn chairs we described in a recent column, and having admired the natural wood long enough by now, want to slick things up for the rest of the season.

A friend got us started on this mid-season research because he was worried about the effect of weather on his rustic garden furniture—the kind made of round, undressed saplings, which seems to be pretty popular these days. Alternate rain and sun is beginning to split the wood and make the furniture come apart at the seams.

Easy Job

This fellow will find he has a really easy job on his hands. Plain old linseed oil is just about the best friend rustic furniture ever had. It not only preserves the wood; it preserves rustic look, too.

Brush or rub it in generously—two or three coats of it, depending on how it soaks up. Allow a couple of hours between coats, and when the final coat is dry, rub it down briskly. While yu're at it, soak the raw ends of the sapling in the oil so they won't absorb up rain and dew. Where the joints are beginning to loosen, apply waterproof glue, reset the nails and lash things down until the glue dries.

Use Enamel

Plain wooden chairs, such as the Adirondack variety, or finished woden chair frames should get a finish of good outdoor enamel. Use metal paint, of course, on metal furniture, first scraping and priming any rust spots.

Canvas chairs, folding or otherwise, can be given new life in a hurry with any one of the many awning or canvas paints on the market. Don't try to imitate the stripes that may have been on the material when you first got it; settle for a plain solid color in the renovation job.

You can do any of these chores in the cool of an evening during the week, and then be all fixed up for company next time you ask somebody over to sit in the garden and share a cool drink.

The cowpea enjoys greater popularity as a vegetable in the southern United States than elsewhere in the country.

Eighteen national forests in California cover one fifth of the state.

Use Garage as Storage Space

No house ever has enough space after a family lives in it a few years. This especially applies to hundreds of thousands of small dwellings erected since World War II.

To ease the space problem, the garage can serve double-duty purposes. It can be used as a teen-age recreation area, family hobby-room or workshop, by finishing the interior attractively. The family car can be parked outside while the garage is used for these activities.

To provide a dry, clean, comfortable floor, the concrete should be covered with asphalt tile. A shuffleboard or other game court can be inset right into the tile as a permanent part of the floor design.

The garage walls and ceiling should be finished with building board, painted to harmonize with the floor color. A 4-tube fluorescent light ceiling will provide good illumination. Storage cabinets to hold equipment needed for the recreation room activities should be built.

Two-Way Heating

Convector-radiators get their name from the fact that they distribute heat within the home by natural convection. However, as the front of the convector becomes warm, the convector also sends out a percentage of radiant heat. This combination makes convestors practical in supplementing fireplace heat, or for the non-air-conditioned areas of homes having partial air conditioning.

Large Industry

The home furnishings industry, third largest in the United States, did an estimated $15,000,000 volume of business in 1950. Home furnishings expenditures averaged about $360 for each of the nation's 42,000,000 homes which shelter some 151,00,000 people.

'Range Country' Begins East of the Hudson

Dutchess County, N.Y., best known as the home of the late President Roosevelt, also is the home of the nation's finest Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

Range country begins within commuting distance of the teeming metropolis of New York—not out on the Lone Prairie—where hundreds of highly pedigreed black Angus roam the grass-carpeted hills.

Fuerst Farm

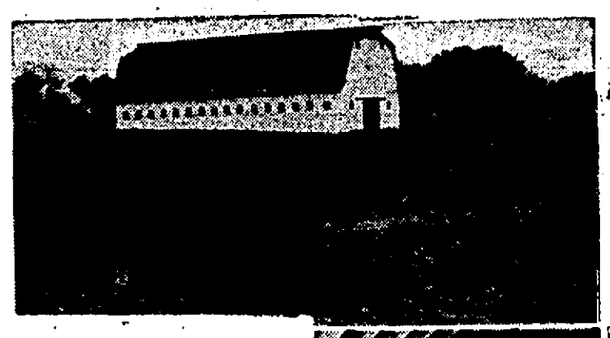

Fuerst Stock farm, at Pine Plains, is one of the principal breeding establishments upholding the reputation of Dutchess as a nursery for top seed stock. In the short space of 15 years, Myron Fuerst and his wife, Agnes, have developed a herd, recognized for its superior qualities by other leading breeders in the United States, Canada and even South America.

Sprawling over 500 acres of rolling landscape, the Fuerst farm is the setting for an annual sale of breeding stock which this year attracted some 500 breeders from 22 states and Canada. Fuerst and neighboring Bethel farm sold 66 animals with receipts totaling $149,525. Top price was $11,100 paid for a fine yearling bull, Bethel Bandolier 15th.

Sale Pavilion

The huge sale pavilion stands apart from the other farm buildings and is on a high plateau which provides a sweeping view of the picturesque countryside. Painted white, the long, graceful structure has a gambrel-shaped roof covered with fire-resistant asphalt shingles in a dark shade for contrast.

Other main buildings such as the brood barn and winter shelter for breeding stock also have asphalt shingle roofs to keep the valuable animals warm and dry and to provide fire safety, all-important on farms which generally are far removed from organized fire protection.

Highly pedigreed Aberdeen-Angus cattle graze peacefully on the Fuerst Stock Farm, Pine Plains, N. Y. Sale pavilion, in background, and other main buildings have fire-resistant asphalt shingle roofs. At right, Myron Fuerst loads young bull in a DC-3 for air shipment to Colombia, South America.

Enclose Porch For Extra Room

An additional room can often be provided economically by enclosing a front or rear porch.

Roof, foundation and floor already exist; therefore the only construction needed is a few wall studs, exterior siding, interior finish of gypsum board or lath and plaster, windows, a door and an inexpensive durable flooring such as tile installed over the existing concrete or board floor of the old porch. A room created from a front porch should be given the same decorative treatment as the living-room, to avoid a tacked-on appearance.

A back porch opening off the kitchen can be converted into a breakfast room, utility room or other adjunct to kitchen activity by enclosing the porch, flooring it with colorful tile to match the kitchen floor, and finishing it as a complete room. If the porch is enclosed with glass sashes that can be replaced with screens of the same size in summer, it will serve admirably as a dining terrace. With the screens, provide awnings or weatherproof shades to protect the interior from the elements.

Some New England ministers were paid in bars of iron in early Colonial days.

Moisture in Basements Can Be Remedied by Drains, Tile

GAL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE—Joyce Mathews, her hands covered by a sheet, rests comfortably in a New York hospital after a suicide attempt. Miss Mathews, divorced wife of television star Milton Berle, slashed her wrists in Ziegfield Theatre apartment of showman Billy Rose. Berle, who was visiting delphia, rushed back and went to his former wife's bedside.

The great deterrent to converting the basement into a recreation room, children's play space or teen-age clubroom—the moisture so often present—need not discourage any home-owner.

First, surface water on the lawn outside should drain away from the house. If it does not, a few cubic yards of topsoil banked all around the foundation a height of 2 or 3 inches and sloping away from the foundation four or five feet and then seeded to grass will help to cure the trouble.

The interior basement walls should be painted with a waterproofing compound. These come in powder form in many colors. The powder is mixed with water to a thick consistency and applied to the concrete. Besides waterproofing, this gives the basement walls any desired color.

Water-Resistant Floor

After the walls are treated, the floor should be covered with tile. This material is waterproof and seals out any moisture arising through the concrete floor. It is not affected by alkali or moisture that is always present in concrete which is in direct contact with the ground, and asphalt tile is the only smooth-surfaced resilient flooring recommended for such installations.

Moisture Condensation

Even after water is excluded from a basement by waterproofing, varying quantities of moisture will appear on hot humid days. This is caused by the moisture in the air condensing on cool surfaces. Since the basement is usually quite cool on hot days, this trouble can become acute. Various chemicals and mechanical devices are available which will absorb excess moisture from the air and, by thus removing it, prevent condensation. A container of such a chemical or a mechanical dehumidfying device placed in an out-of-the-way corner of the basement will effect a prompt remedy.

It has been estimatd that there are 13,000,000 domesticated mongrel and pedigree dogs in the United States.

Women will outnumber men in the United States by about 700,000 by 1960, according to a survey's estimate.

Paint Furniture

It is easier to paint furniture after all metal hardware has been removed. Difficult parts should be painted first, leaving the top, exposed surfaces until last. A small brush should be used to achieve a thin, even coat over the entire surface.

Activities Varied at Polo Festival

POLO —The annual festival, sponsored by the Polo Woman's club was held Wednesday and Thursday.

The kiddies parade Wednesday started off the two day celebration which was followed by entertainment by Wurtzel, the magician, a concert by the high school band and crowning of the queen, Donna Craig, by Mayor R. O. Good. Thursday afternoon the band, drum and bugle corps from the Dixon State hospital presented a program and in the evening Coach Bob Breckenridge served as referee for the women wrestlers.

A flower show, art and food exhibits, a photo show and slides were shown by Donald Typer, recently returned from Japan, were part of the day's entertainment. There was dancing each evening, with music furnished by the Polo Ranch Hands.

Mrs. L. E. Bacon and grandson Gary Dusing, Harry Typer and sons Robert and Harold are taking a vacation at the Bacon cottage in Minnesota.

The Eagle Point Aid society and families will have a picnic dinner Sunday at Lawrence park.

Mrs. John Folkers and Mrs. John Becker were Oregon visitors Thursday.

Barbara Hutton Divorces No. 4

CUERNAVACA, MEXICO — (AP)—Dime Store Heiress Barbara Hutton finally has her divorce from husband number four, Prince Igor Troubetskoy.

Judge Alfonso Roqueni said last night that he signed the decree July 14—four months and 18 days after the blonde, ailing, 38-year-old heiress to the Woolworth millions applied.

The divorce was held up after the "poor little rich girl" asked for it Feb. 26 because Prince Troubetzkoy claimed he had not been properly notified of his wife's action. Troubetzkoy lives in France and notification consisted of a note posted on the bulletin board of the dingy Cuernavaca courthouse.

The prince's lawyers, who accused Miss Hutton of trying for a "quickie" divorce, withdrew from the action. They never confirmed a report that Troubetzkoy put a $3,000,000 price on his consent to a separation.

To Salvage Scrap In Alaskan Area

WASHINGTON, (AP) —About 40,000 tons of World War II iron and steel scrap abandoned by American and Japanese forces in Alaska and the Aleutian islands may be salvaged.

The navy yesterday asked commercial firms to submit bids for the job. Bidders are requested to contact the commandant of the 17th naval district care the postmaster in Seattle, Wash., or the Office of Naval Materiel in Washington.

Reds Continue To Build Up Attack Forces

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, (AP)—Communist forces today continued to bolster frontline positions but there were no indications an attack was imminent.

An Eighth army spokesman said that "all along the front the enemy now has probably as much as he had for the April 22 offensive."

United Nations patrols stabbed close to the main Red lines and met blistering attacks. Several withdrew. There were many short, sharp clashes, especially on the central front and eastward.

Increased Communist frontline strength appeared to be no more than bolstering of defenses. U. N. air observers have spotted no significant movement of Red troops of supplies behind the front.

Rain hampered air operations but medium and light bombers attacked North Korean targets using radar to sight through the clouds.

There was no ground contact Friday around the neutral zone of Kaesong but patrols sighted Red forces building new defenses.

There were two small clases west of Chorwon, western anchor of the onetime Communist "Iron Triangle" buildup area.

United Nations patrols moved about the former assembly area without contact and returned to their own lines without menacing the Red-held city of Pyongyang, northern tip of the triangle.

East of the triangle, sharp close-up actions were frequent and bitter.

2 Hurt as Car Hits Bridge Near Rock Falls

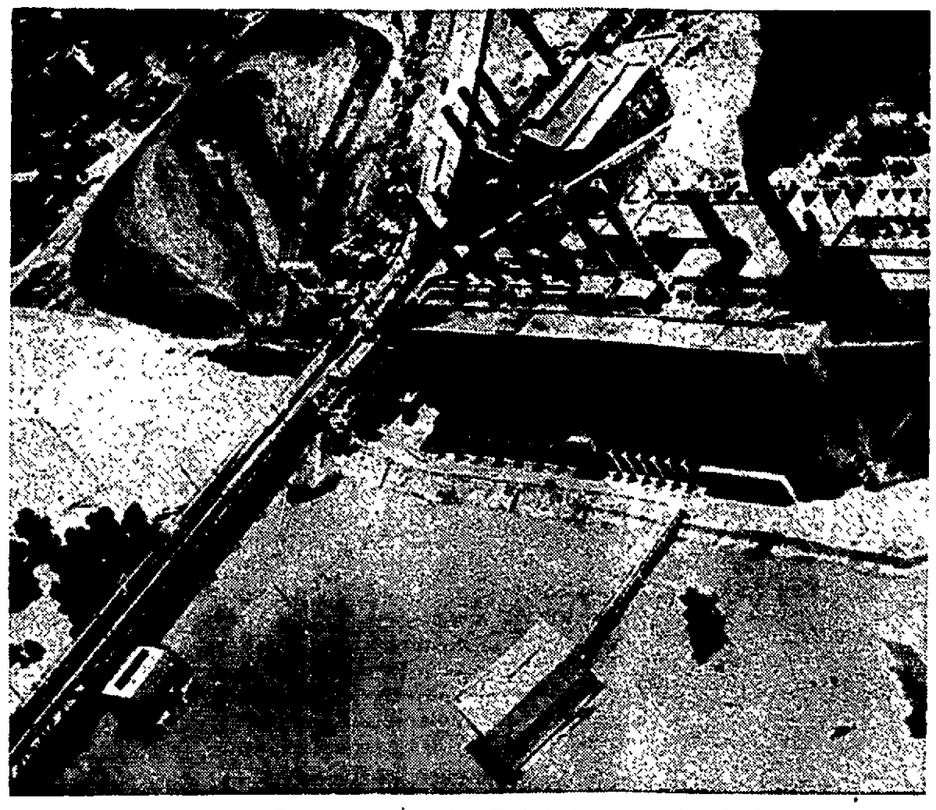

ROCK FALLS — Two persons were injured early Friday when the car they were riding in plunged off the approach to the bridge over the Hennepin canal south of Rock Falls. Only 11 days earlier three persons were injured in a crash into the same bridge on Rt. 88.

In the Friday accident the car crashed through the guard rail and fell 15 feet to the canal bank. James A. Billings, 26, Rock Falls, the driver, sustained chest and back injuries and cuts on his left arm. Miss Mary Dawn Nettz, 26, of 609 Avenue C, Sterling, received chest injuries, a possible skull fracture, concussion, cuts on her head and loss of several front teeth. Both are confined to Community General hospital, Sterling. They were reported in "fair" condition today.

State Police Sgt. Ray Cramer said skid marks on the pavement on the south approach of the bridge indicated the car was traveling at high speed before it crashed through the guard rail. It landed upside down with the front submerged in waters of the canal.

A third passenger in the car, Inocencio Saucedo, 24, of 515 Wallace st., Sterling, escaped injury. Cramer said the trio were on the way from Deer Grove to Sterling. Saucedo was charged with drinking on a public highway. Billings will be charged with reckless driving. Officer Arlyn Waite, Prophetstown, aided Sgt. Cramer in the investigation.

If your vacation is only going to be a few weeks you may not want to turn off your refrigerator. But if you're going away for more than three weeks be sure to turn off the refrigerator, remove all food, clean the inside thoroughly with a solution of baking soda and hot water, and leave the refrigerator door open.

Foreign Farmers Like U. S. But Think Homelands Okay Also

ca is wonderful but there's no place like home say 60 young farmers from nine foreign countries.

The farmers toured the International Harvester Company's tractor works in Rock Lsland after completing three months or work on Midwest farms.

They are here under an exchange program sponsored by the Economic Cooperation Administration in conjunction with the agriculture department.

Purpose of the program is to promote better understanding between countries and to familiarize farmers with our methods and equipment.

Typical comments were:

Rudolph Nydahl of Hassla Skenninge, Sweden: "I've been working on a farm in the Black Hills of South Dakota and have found the climate, the farming, and the people wonderful. One of the most astounding things I've noticed is your many varieties of fruit juices."

Gontrand Gormet of Peronne, Sonne, France: "Iowa, the state where I've been working, has too much milk. In this country it's milk morning noon and night. In France we have a little milk in the morning and it's wine the rest of the day. Your wine is too sweet."

Patrick Scully of Ardfield, Clonakilty, County Cork, Ireland: "Farming is a vacation in the United States. Back home we still use horses."

Jens Mikkelsen of Darwyn Glamsbyerg, Denmark: "The people here fry and boil the taste right out of food. In Denmark, we don't rush everything the way you do. After work we have three or four hours to enjoy the sunset. Here, you work until dark."

Spain Gets U. S. Loan for Railroads

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Two days after the state department disclosed the United State is negotiating with Spain for naval and air bases, the U. S. granted Spain a $7,500,000 loan for railway improvement.

This raised to about $30,500,000 credits granted Spain out of a $62,500,000 special appropriation made by congress. But officials of the government's export-import bank said none of the money has actually been spent or paid out.

State Police In New Raids

OTTAWA, (AP)—State police confiscated 29 slot machines last night in raids on 10 taverns along Route 23 between Streator and Ottawa.

The LaSalle county sheriff's office reported the machines are being held in Ottawa. The office also reported that charges are to be filed today against the tavern keepers.

The raid was made by 16 state policemen under the direction of Tom Brennan, assistant to the state director of public safety.

Three Killed, 100 Injured in Minnesota, Dakota Wind Storm

By the Associated Press

Violent thunderstorms, with gale-like winds of 100 miles an hour, killed three persons, injured nearly 100 and caused heavy property and crop damage in Central Minnesota and Eastern South Dakota last night.

The deaths occurred in the Twin Cities area of Minneapolis-St. Paul. At least 70 persons were treated at the Minneapolis General hospital for injuries attributed to the storm.

Nearly two inches of rain hit the storm belt. Trees toppled, power lines were cut, blacking out large areas. Lightning bolts set several small fires. Scores of automobiles were crushed by falling trees. Traffic was at a virtual standstill during the storm.

An unidentified man and woman were killed when the roof of a food store in St. Anthony, a Minneapolis suburb, collapsed. They were buried in the tons of debris. The store was crowded with shoppers.

Terrence Malm, 4-months-old, asleep in his crib, was killed when a chimney on the family home toppled, pierced the roof and covered the crib with bricks.

Among the injured in Minneapolis were about 20 of the 700 persons at a revival meeting in a tent which was blown down by the strong winds.

Power and telephone lines were ripped out as gale-like winds swept Watertown, S. D., 200 miles west of the Twin Cities. A grain elevator, a house and three trailers were toppled by the winds. Damage to crops was heavy.

It was fair weather over most of the country today, with some thundershowers from Nebraska northeastward into the Upper Mississippi valley.

Warm, humid weather continued over the southern half of the nation and northward into Iowa. Temperatures were around normal levels in the northern tier of states.

Wholesale Prices Decline More

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Wholesale prices have dropped for the seventh week running, this time one-half of one per cent, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

The bureau reported yesterday on prices in the week ended July 17.

Its index after last week stood at 178.8 per cent of the 1926 base period average.

The first Mrs. Wimpell sued for her dower interest in the property which had been sold . . . and the new owner was glad that he had a Chicago Title and Trust Company Title Guarantee Policy.

When Mary B. Wimpell signed the deed for the sale of her husband's property—nothing in the record showed that she was the second wife. The first Mary B. had not relinquished her Dower Rights in the property, and hearing of the sale—she sued.

To the new owner of the Wimpell property, this could have meant annoyance, expensive litigation and loss—for clearly the law was on the side of the first Mrs. Wimpell.

It is against such contingencies that a Title Guarantee provides the surest safeguard. When you purchase real estate, it is your right to ask the seller for a Title Guarantee Policy, without cost to you. Under its terms, Chicago Title and Trust Company assumes full responsibility for defending the owner's title as guaranteed, shoulders all legal expense, and, in case of loss, promptly pays.

Nehru Acts Mighty War-Like for Vaunted 'Man of Peace'

Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan complains that India is massing troops on his country's border.

India's Prime Minister Nehru acknowledges the troop movements, but says they are for defense. He charges Pakistan with "organized preparations for raids and sabotage in Indian territory."

Dispatches from New Delhi disclose that the major part of India's 400,000-man army has been arrayed along the frontier or in other danger zones like Kashmir. Nehru insists India has no intention of attacking Pakistan, though this force seems a little large for combatting mere "raids and sabotage."

Americans thousands of miles from the scene are not qualified to judge who is really threatening whom. But they are not barred from passing moral judgment on the general India-Pakistan dispute.

* * *

That dispute has centered for a long time on the independent princely state of Kashmir, which both nations wish to absorb.

United Nations mediators have recommended that a plebiscite be held to allow the people of Kashmir to vote on where they shall place their allegiance. Pakistan accepts this plan, but India does not. Furthermore, India has put its troops into Kashmir to keep command of the situation, and Indian leaders say they will never allow Kashmir to get out of their hands.

No one can be positive which way the mixed Hindu and Moslem population of that state would lean. It might well favor India. But it is just and proper that the issue be settled by a peaceful vote, not by force. The presence of Indian troops there, plus India's persistent refusal to consider a plebiscite, amounts to violation of the letter and spirit of the United Nations charter.

* * *

Last winter Nehru projected himself forward as leader in an effort to mediate the Korean war. At that time, he and his UN spokesman, Sir Bengal Rau, uttered many bitter words about the West's "stubborn reluctance" to permit mediation. He ignored the fact that his proposed settlement terms amounted to rewarding Communist aggression.

* * *

All through that period, the Kashmir controversy still raged, and India adamantly refused to accept any solution but its own. The attitude at New Delhi obviously has not altered one whit.

The Indian view seems to be that mediation is for the other fellow. Nehru wants the UN charter to apply to everyone but him.

In the light of India's record, men of character in the free world can have scant sympathy for Nehru's pretensions as a "man of peace." And they would have little patience with any action that would lead to an outbreak of war between India and Pakistan.

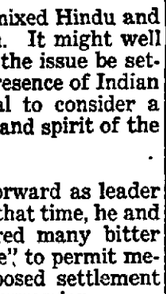

Hypocrisy is a harsh word but it pretty well describes India's behavior. World peace can never be promoted by men who think that the principle of just settlement of disputes should guide all the world but the part they govern.

Here Are Some Situations That Women Understand

Only another woman can understand:

That it is equally upsetting for a woman to have a drop-in guest find her house in disorder or an expected guest fail to show up after she has the whole house shining.

How frustrating it is to a woman to houseclean all day and have her husband walk in, look around and ask innocently: "What have you been doing all day?"

How a woman can get so much enjoyment out of "just looking" at things she has no intention of buying.

Why it is easier for a woman to face almost any kind of crisis if she has just had her hair done.

Why a woman always wonders, when she meets a man, if he is married and if he is, what his wife is like.

That the duller the evening, the more the women guests gush over what a wonderful time they had.

Why a woman looks so pleased when her husband mentions some flaw in another woman, even one as remote as a movie star.

Age Is Always a Burning Question

Why a woman is so interested in other women's ages.

Why the tone of feminine talk always changes abruptly and if by mutual consent the moment a man joins the group.

Why no woman can ever figure out to her satisfaction how a homely woman holds a man.

How a couple of wives, can have such an enjoyable time tearing their husbands to pieces.

That when a married couple are being excessively polite to each other, chances are they have had a quarrel that hasn't been fought out to the finish.

That when a woman asks "What do you think of so-and-so?" she doesn't want or expect approval. She is giving a go-ahead sign—go ahead and tell me what you think is wrong with her and then I'll tell you.

IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—Yvonne de Carlo slammed shut the book titled "Romances—Phoney, Real and Semi-Real" and the noise blew several hundred press agents out of town.

"I'm through with that sort of thing," Yvonne told me, raising her sooty eyelashes slowly and dramatically, like the silk curtain at Grauman's Chinese theater. "It has hurt my career."

Yvonne's press agents have had the riot act read to them about breathlessly phoning in the name of the adorer who paid for her filet mignon the night before. They've been ordered not to link her with every Tom, Dick and Aly.

I'm falling in line, too.

Even if Yvonne walks into the Mocambo flanked by Greg Bautzer, Mickey Rooney, Ernest Hemingway, Gorgeous George and one of Hedy Lamarr's ex-husbands, Johnson will be quiet about it.

Yvonne suffered enough when a producer looked at her and said:

"But you're a playgirl, angel, and we need a serius actress for this part."

SERIOUS ABOUT IT

"Look," Yvonne pouted. "I'm a good actress. Anytime Hollywood wants me to prove it, I'm ready. I've never had believable parts, that's all. But I'm believable in my new picture, 'Silver City.' I play a real woman. My producer, Nat Holt, wouldn't touch a 'playgirl actress with a 10-foot pole."

"You know what? There are some very important people in Hollywood who are interested in me as an actress. I once did a picture called 'Criss Cross.' My performance did me more good with people. It sowed that I had grown beyond the slave girl roles.

Yvonne groaned again about the romance publicity.

"It's made something of me," she said, "that I'm not. A lot of it is my fault. Columnists would ask me, 'Who's your latest?' I thought you were supposed to tell. Then studio publicity men would say that they needed a strong romance angle to publicize my new picture. It was all right with me whatever they did about it. Even if they invented somebody. Now I know that it's harmed me."

"Actresses should take milk baths and go around with wolfhounds. I know the value of glamour publicity. But being coupled and engaged—that's no good."

Yvonne's washing those men right out of her hair and she'll shampoo her tresses an extra lick to rinse out the slave girl parts that she's been playing since "Salome, Where She Danced."

NOT MARIO?

The name of Mario Cabre popped up in connection with Yvonne's British picture, "Hotel Sahara," and she wailed:

"Do I have to talk about him?"

The bullfighter-poet, she explained, was just a friend and it was none of her doing that newshawks cabled the word back to Hollywood that she had stolen him from Ava Gardner.

"We spoke about Ava mostly the few times that I saw him. He's a very nice guy, Mario, a very nice person. And I like Ava very much. She's one of the few women in Hollywood that I like."

How about the poetry that Mario scribbled off to her? Surely Yvonne had a couple of sonnets tucked away in her make-up kit. Now if she would just care to read them aloud.

Yvonne blushed and said:

"There was no poetry. But I can tell you one thing. If it had been a romance, there would have been poetry."

She tossed a length of black hair away from her cheek and said that she hoped Hollywood would understand why she was muttering "Lay off" about dreamed-up romances.

"It's all right once in a while," Yvonne said. "Like when I have dinner with a prince."

Jacoby on Canasta

Follow Rules and Enjoy Game

"The other night," relates a distressed Canasta player of Topeka, Kansas, "I made a canasta with six queens and one wild card. The next time around the player at my right discarded a queen. The pack was not frozen, so I tried to pick it up, putting the queen on my canasta. Much to my surprise, this started quite an argument.

"My opponents said I could not take the queen since I already had a canasta of queens. I said that I could take the queen according to the official rules. They agreed on that point, but said that we were not following the official rules. We asked our hostess which rules were to be played in her home, but she didn't want to decide. She said we could toss a coin if we liked, but that she found it more fun to listen to an argument than to get into it.

"What is the correct answer to our problem? Also, how should such matters be settled?"

These are difficult questions to answer. Since several readers have sent me this type of question, however, I'd better answer them to the best of my ability.

To begin with, many people like to make up new rules for Canasta. Some of those rules "rules" make sense, and some of them don't; but that's not the important point. If people have more fun following foolish rules, more power to them.

The official rule in this situation is that the player is allowed to pick up the queen and add it to her canasta. At the same time, of course, she picks up the rest of the discard pile. The fact that she already has a canasta of queens does not prevent her from taking the queen.

Once you depart from the official rules, you're at sea. Some people often say that you can pick up a queen in this situation. Others say that you can't pick up the queen, and also that the opponents can never pick up a queen either. Still others say that it's all right to pick up the queen if you still have a natural pair of queens in your hand (which is possible if you have used only four or five natural cards in making your canasta.)

There is no problem if all the players at the table can agree on which rules they are following. If they can't agree on the rules, they ought to find an umpire (usually the host or hostess) to settle the question for them. If they can't find an umpire, then tossing a coin is as good as any way to settle it. The only thing that really matters is to find some face-saving way to stop the argument and get back to enjoying the game.

Mr. Jacob is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

The Doctor Says:

Medical Science Working On Multiple Sclerosis

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Twenty or 25 years ago one disease of the nervous system known as multiple sclerosis was so uncommon as to be considered almost a medical curiosity in the United States — though not in other places such as England and Germany.

It must be said with regret that this is no longer true, and multiple sclerosis, while not a "common" disease, is no longer rare. Why this change has occurred is not known; if it were we might have a vital clue to the cause and what to do about it.

An accepted identification of the cause—and methods of prevention and treatment—are what is needed. It is known that the disease attacks small and often distant parts of the central nervous system, the spinal cord and brain stem particularly, and that the symptoms depend on what particular area is affected.

This latter point means that the signs of the disease tend to vary from person to person. Indeed when I mentioned some of the more common symptoms on a previous occasion a number of people jumped to the conclusion that that was what was wrong with them.

This is a dangerous practice since the diagnosis can only be made by an expert and many people can have the same symptoms from wholly different causes.

One feature of multiple sclerosis which is rather difficult to explain is why those who have it go through long periods when they are first better and then worse. Nevertheless this has its good side because often it is pissible to lengthen the good periods and shorten the bad ones.

CLIMATE IMPORTANT

A moderate climate and avoidance of colds or other infections seem to be one of the measures which help in this respect.

It seems to be generally recognized that real progress in the control of multiple sclerosis can only come by acquiring more knowledge about the disease. This in turn will be the result of research and this is going forward on many fronts.

This need has been recognized by the formation of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society (270 Park Ave., New York 17) which is supported by voluntary contributions and which in turn aids research.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Protect Crops Stored on Farm

Farmers should make sure that their granary space will be ample for storage of this year's expected bumper harvest and that adequate protection is provided against leakage, weather, rodents, insects and other hazards.

Whether constructing a new storage building or reconditioning one now in service, a new asphalt roof will provide protection from weather damage and long, economical life. With a wide variety of asphalt roofing available for use on barns and other farm service buildings, it is easy to select a suitable type for any structure. Nineteen-inch selvage edge roll roofing, a locked-on type of asphalt shingle, or a standard strip shingle may be used on barns and other permanent buildings. If the building stands in a high, exposed location, cementing down the tabs of the asphalt strip shingles with quick-setting asphalt cement is recommended. Asphalt roll roofing may be used on low, small temporary structures.

The foundation, walls and floor must be of sound construction, with the floor far enough above the ground to prevent flood damage in heavy rains. Doors and hatches must be tightfitting, and there should be no loose knots, split boards or open joints which could cause loss of grain.

Will Governor Dewey's Far East Trip Start Political Tongues Wagging?

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's trip to the Far East was made at the suggestion of Ambassador John Foster Dulles, who has been chief negotiator of the Japanese peace treaty.

Originally, Governor Dewey had planned to go to Europe. Ambassador Dulles, who was Dewey's principal foreign policy adviser in his races for the presidency, reminded the governor that he had been to Europe two years ago, but had never visited the Pacific.

Since the Far East is to be an important area, Mr. Dulles thought Governor Dewey should become better acquainted with its problems, firsthand.

Ambassador Dulles arranged the trip and made appointments with many of the people Governor Dewey is to see in Japan, Formosa, Hong Kong, Indo-China, Indonesia, Singapore, Australia, and New Zealand.

Too Many Men

U. S. Air Force is having a tough time trying to figure why it needs so many men, and what they all do. When the Air Force had 48 groups, it had 411,000 men. Doubling the size of the Air Force was expected to call for only twice as many men. But the personnel estimates for the 95 group Air Force now being built up call for over 1,000,000 men.

The brass can't understand it. Orders have been given by Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg to cut personnel and budget manpower on an inadequate basis, if necessary, to get the numbers down. The word passed down to all lower echelons of command is, "You just don't need that many people."

Not on Wall Street

While the Hungarian Communnist government continues kicking Americans around, Hungarian embassy officials in the United States are going right ahead with plans to re-open the New York and Chicago consulates. They were closed in retalintion for American businessman Robert Vogeler's arrest and imprisonment on phony spy charges.

Hungarian government did have to get a new location in New York. Before the Vogeler arrest, they had consular offices in Wall Street area. They decided that wasn't a good address for Communist country offices, so they changed.

Get Your Slide Rule Ready

Biggest manpower shortage now reported is in graduate engineers. Survey of American industry has indicated that 70,000 young engineers are now wanted by employers. But only 29,000 engineering students were graduated by technical schools this June.

And only 19,000 high school graduates have indicated they will enter engineering schools this fall. Assuming the customary drop-outs and failures, this will nowhere near supply demand for engineers four years hence.

This also explains importance of recent Selective Service policy for deferring college students, as announced by Maj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

Dr. Arthur Flemming, manpower adviser to Mobilization Director C. E. Wilson, has just set up new advisory committee of educators and industrialists, to increase number of students taking engineering courses.

More women may be urged to take up engineering. And a new scholarship plan, to finance qualified students unable to get money for their own technical education, may have to be adopted.

Military Government Out

Transfer of the Pacific Islands Trust Territory from Navy Department to Department of Interior supervision leaves very few spots under U. S. military government.

Wake, Midway and Johnston islands, important as mid-Pacific airbases, are still under the Navy as U. S. possessions. The Ryukus and the Bonin-volcano islands are under military government, pending settlement of the Japanese peace treaty.

American Samoa is in the process of transfer to territorial government, and the Navy yard there is being closed. It will throw some 500 natives out of work and cut off a payroll that has done a great deal to keep the island economy going.

Many natives on all these islands want to enlist in the U. S. armed forces, but there are no recruiting provisions.

Massage at High Speed

So many costly gadgets have been hung on high-speed jet aircraft that there's practically no room left for the pilots. They are cramped in awfully close quarters. And as the range of jets is constantly being increased, there is no opportunity for moving about or relaxing. After seven-hour flight missions, plane crews come in pretty well fatigued.

The remedy for this has now been found—in another gadget. It's a compressed air pulsator, built into the pilot's seat. When he begins to feel stiff, he turns on the air. The gadget then gives him an ever-so gentle massage, which is supposed to make him feel dandy again.

* * *

Gadgets Take Over

The ultimate in aircraft will come when there are so many gadgets on planes that there won't be any room at all for the pilot. Everything will be done by remote controls, making the aircraft nothing more than guided missiles. Aircraft designers have though up a real fancy name for such planes. It's "uninhabited aircraft."

Seafood Battle a Draw

The great Washington National Press Club clambake debate on the relative merits of Maine lobsters and Louisiana crayfish ended in something of a draw.

Republican Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine said the northern shell fish were firm, like Republicans. Southern species, on the other hand, were soft-shelled and flabby, like Democrats. Democratic Rep. F. Edwdard Herbert of Louisiana countered with a question. Which would you rather hold in your arms, Babe Didrickson or Dorothy Lamour?

Baukage, the radio commentator, who had to preside over the debate when Federal Mediator Cyrus Ching got tied up in Washington's transit strike negotiations, finally gave the award to—the red herring.

Ask Proof Portugal Candidate Was Denied Radio

LISBON, PORTUGAL, (AP) — Adm. Quintao Meirelles who flooded Lisbon with a million copies of a declaration that he quit Portugal's presidential race because he couldn't campaign freely, has been told by the government to prove his claim.

Meirelles, who dropped out Thursday leaving the field clear to Gen. Francisco Higinio Lopes, said he could not use the national radio and had difficulty getting his campaign literature published and delivered.

Lee County Homemakers

By JUNE PILGRIM

Four-H members and their counselors have returned from their three days spent at 4-H camp at Shaw-Waw-Nas-See. While there the group participated in the activities of swimming, group recreation of square and folk dancing and sports, which consisted of badminton, volley ball, golf, soccer, croquet and fly-casting. Handicraft consisted of woodwork with native cedar found on the camp ground, plaster craft, tin-cancraft and crayon painting. Four-H'ers took their choice of one craft. In addition, the Public Service Co. provided a tent with activities of repairing cords, wiring motors and making multiple switches. For girls, use of an ironer, steam iron, automatic washer and dryer were provided, so they might practice the operation of each.

Special evning programs consisted of the Return of Chief Shaw-waw-nas-see (ceremonial) 4-H candlelighting ceremony and County Fair Stunt Night.

The Lee county campers were joined by campers from Will and Boone county. They were divided into eight different tribes according to their ages. Girls had the privilege of living in cabins this year, since they had just been completed.

Attend Camp

Those atending camp were:

Donna Whaley, Shirley Whaley, Salley Jay, Lois Moritz, Howardine Leffelman, Kay Fulfs, Lorna Hoge, Mary Hoge, Joyce Grobe, Wanda Engelbrecht, Shirley Engelbrecht, Martha Jane Jacobs, Anita Jacobs, Valeria Simpson, Janet Kesselring, Ardith Strach.

La Rita Hermes, Marilyn Engelbrecht, Elaine Pierce, Mary Louise Bryan, Judy Willstead, Carolyn Huyett, Lavonne Pitzer, Phyllis Holderman, Shirley Bonnell, Beverly Brown, Janet Koehler, Mary Ann Engelbrecht, Delores Voss, Joan Schlesinger, Frances Truckenbrod, Lois Ann Starks.

Counselors were: June Pilgrim, Pat Shelden, Mrs. Joe Engelbrecht and Agnes Daniels.

Five Day Camp

This week, Patricia Shelden is chaperoning six Lee county girls who are attending five day camp—a 4-H camp program inaugurated for the first time. There are 10 4-H'ers attending from Lee county. They are Carol Schnell, Judy Schnell, Alice Robbins, Myrna Dennis, Gayle Sharp, Linda Kron, Robert Dennis, John Lair, Roger Browder and Warren Robbins.

Weekend Camp

Rural youth members in Lee county are having the opportunity to attend a weekend camp at 4-H camp Shaw-waw-nas-see, near Kankakee. Camp begins Saturday afternoon and extends through Sunday evening.

Another Rural Youth activity being arranged is a square dance, July 28, at James Somer's home, 8:30 p.m. Arrangements are being made to hold it as a lawn party with a "watermelon bust" following.

All-County Meeting

The annual July All-County meeting will be held Thursday, July 26, at the Farm Bureau auditorium, Amboy, starting at 1:30 p.m. A representative of the Patricia Stevens Modeling Agency will speak on the topic "Charm in a Capsule." This topic covers correct walking and posture, clothes styling, makeup and hairstyling.

New members will be especially honored at the tea following the meeting.

Garden Notes

Muskmelons that are "full slip" stage are best for home use and for the local market. At this stage they separate from the vines with almost no effort and leave a nice smooth scar. Lok for this smoothness when buying.

Watermelons are ripe when a strong thumbnail scratches the surface and the thin outer skin can be rolled under the nail. Look at the surface, too, that was laying on the ground. An amber or creamy yellow color indicates maturity and full ripeness.

"On the 25th of July—sow your turnips be it wet or dry." This aptly fits Northern Illinois, too.

Harvest bulb onions when 90-95 per cent of the stems have dried at the neck and fallen over. Cure them in open racks or shallow racks, protected from sun and rain—but in freely moving air.

Buy peaches when there is a yellow undertone that can be seen breaking through the dull greyish-green background color. Peaches picked before this stage never develop much flavor.

Chinese cabbage seed can be planted now. When plants are two or three inches tall they should be thinned, leaving strong plants 12-15 inches apart. Other plants can be transplanted.

Green curled endive is another salad green you might consider planting. It blanches naturally in the fall, has reduced bitterness and will survive temperatures just below freezing.

Late July-August plantings of green beans frequently produce excellent quality crop.

Revised Canning

Non-acid vegetables are always canned by pressure (either saucepan or canner). The following table applies to pressure canner and glass jars: Lima beans—hot pack—10 lb pressure—35 min. for pints—60 min. for quarts. Beets—Pre-cooked; skinned, hot pack—10 lb pressure—25 in.—pints; 55 min.—quarts. Carrots — covered with boiling water—10 lb pressure—20 min.—pints; 25 min.—quarts. Corn—cream style—add a pint of boiling water to each quart—10 lb. pressure—55 min.—pints, 85 min.—quarts.

Peas—Cover with water bring to boil—10 lb. pressure 40 min.—pints, 40 min.—quarts.

Hang It All!

Watch the way you hang your clothes and you will save their shape and make the job of ironing easier for yourself.

Shake the clothes well before hanging. Be sure to hang by the garments' strongest parts with weight distributed equally over the line. There should be no tension to pull cloth out of shape. Never hang any pieces by corners. Larger pieces are hung first, then smaller ones go into left-over space. Hang two or three hankies or napkins together, and pin hems, not corners.

It's smart to hang white cottons and linens in the sun to dry—you have the use of a natural bleach but colored cottons, linens—all silks, woolens, nylons and synthetics should dry in the shade.

To keep the corners of sheets and tablecloths square fold them to hem and hand the hemmed edges over the line 8-12 inches. Clothespins should be fastened at one foot intervals. Fold pastels or prints sheets or tablecloths inside out.

Pillowcases go onto the line at the closed end, letting a few inches extend over the line. Towels stay a single thickness and extend one-third over the line.

Hang shirts by the tail, white shirts right side out, others are best turned wrong side. Hang dresses, blouses, jackets by the shoulders or on hangers. Sunback dresses hang by the waist. Corduroy and seersucker garments hung on hangers do away with ironing.

Skirts should have their plackets closed and be hung from waistband; smooth belt and pleats a little. Shorts and trousers are treated this same way.

Cotton slips and nightgowns are pinned to the line where straps are sewed on. Rayon, nylon and silk lingerie should have weight evenly distributed. It is best not to use clothespins.

County 4-H Clothing Day

The public is invited to attend the county 4-H dress revue which will be held July 30. Individual clubs are judged at the morning session. Each girl models in the afternoon starting at 1:30 p.m. Event takes place in the Mills-Petrie Memorial Building in Ashton.

Illusion Aids Imperfect Chin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

All superstition aside, three is a lucky number when it's applied to your face. You've got a head start on beauty if yours can be divided into perfect thirds.

A woman's face is considered classically proportionate if the measurement from her hairline to the base of her nose is the same as that from the base of her nose to its tip. These, in turn, should be the equal of the distance from the end of her nose to the tip of her chin.

Since the features of very few conform exactly to these, it's a wise woman who learns a few tricks to make her face appear proportionate.

Almost every woman has worked out hair-dos that aid in concealing a too-high or too-low forehead, thus bringing the upper third of her face nearer the ideal. Many women are aware, too, of the value of darker make-up for shortening an over-long nose. But when it comes to a disproportionate chin or upper lip, many tend to give up.

This isn't necessary. With a lipstick brush and a bit of skill, you can learn to camouflage unloveliness in these areas also. If your nose-to-lip measurement is more lengthy than it should be, try building up the outline of your upper lip to give an illusion of shortness. If this measurement is already too short, edge your lipstick down the merest fraction to give needed extra-length.

Work this trick in reverse for a not-quite-perfect chin. Broaden your lower lip a bit if your problem is excess length. If you're struggling with an insufficient chin, make certain your lip-line extends no further down than it absolutely must.

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)

HAMBURGERS WITH SWISS CHEESE AND TOMATOES

Ingredients: 8 English muffins, 2 pounds ground chuck beef, 1 one-half pound package (8 slices) processed Swiss cheese, 1 pound (4 medium) tomatoes, butter or margarine, salt, freshly-ground pepper, crushed dried basil.

Method: Tear or cut muffins in half. Divide meat into eight portions; make two patties the size of each muffin—half from each portion. With large cooky cutter (about diameter of muffin-half) cut a round out of each slice of cheese. Wash tomatoes and slice off ends; cut each into 4 round slices. Toast cut-side of muffins under broiler until lightly brown and slightly crisp (do not toast bottoms); spread toasted side of muffins with butter or margarine and top each with a beef patty; sprinkle meat with salt and pepper. Place under broiler until top of meat is browned and meat is only partly cooked. Place a cheese round, then a tomato slice, on top of meat. Sprinkle tomato with salt and a little basil. Return to broiler until meat is finished cooking, cheese has melted slightly, and tomato slice is hot through. Serve at once. Makes two rounds apiece for eight persons.

Modern automatic gas ranges help food budgeteers these days because they maintain constant low temperatures; it's these low temperatures that reduce meat shrinkage as much as 20 per cent. In roasting beef, lamb, or veal, keep the oven temperature of the gas range at 355° F., and vary the cooking time according to the weight and cut of the meat, and the degree to which you wish it done.

Summer Bride

Department President of Auxiliary to Speak Here

Mrs. Ernest W. Duckett, Department President of the American Legion auxiliary, will be guest speaker at the Second Division convention to be held in Dixon, Aug. 5, at the morning session, at the Dixon Elks club.

Mrs. Duckett is the wife of Ernest W. Duckett of Chicago. She has one daughter, Mrs. Dennis Cremin and two sons. Dickie, a junior in high school and Robert, who served as Lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps in World War II. Her husband is a World War I veteran and both are members of Maywood Post, 133. Her immediate family of ten forms a 100% Legion and Auxiliary family.

Mrs. Ernest W. Duckett

This year's Department President has served the Auxiliary in many responsible capacities since 1930. She possesses a combination of charm, sincerity and executive ability with an awareness of the members. She has a keen knowledge and understanding of the varied programs of the Auxiliary. She believes that this large membership is proof that the organization has something of special interest to offer every eligible woman and junior, either in the way of service to the disabled veterans and their families or service to her community, state and nation through scheduled programs on all phases of Auxiliary work.

"To create a mutual understanding of the problems presented to us in this year of national emergency and to foster a spirit of cooperation in seeking greater opportunities for service has been my special project for 1951," says Mrs. Duckett.

Mrs. Duckett is well known in Auxiliary circles for her charming personality and Irish wit; these attributes together with her knowladge and experience promise to make her message both interesting and instructive.

Name Other Speakers

Another speaker at this meeting will include Mrs. Lucille Dowd, Director of the Hospital Service and Training Dept. of Illinois, Mrs. Iva Callahan, president of Dixon Unit 12 states that the following will have charge of arrangements for the Second Division Convention; Mrs. James Traynor, General Convention chairman, together with her committe of Mrs. Richard Hammerstrom, housing for distinguished guests; Mrs. Roy DeWerff, Past Presidents breakfast for out of town guests; Mrs. Otto Flamm and Mrs. Pearl Blackburn, decorations for Convention hall, Miss Ann Kennedy and Mrs. Catherine Kelly who will act as Sargent and Assistant Sgt. at Arms and Mrs. Lucille Gorham, Publicity.

(By the Associated Press)

Salable hogs 500, total 1,500 (estimated); compared week ago: butchers and sows steady to 25 higher, with advance limited almost entirely to butchers weighing 180-240 lbs. and sows around 330 lbs. and less. Butchers and sows advanced through the early part of the week and choice lighter weight butchers reached the highest levels since June, and with the exception of a single day at that time, they sold the highest since February. Later declines, however, erased a good share of the earlier gains. Top for the wek was 23.50. On the close the top was 23.25, with the bulk of the choice 180-230 lb. butchers at 22.75-23.25. Most 240-270 lbs. 21.50-22.50, 270-290 lbs. 21.25-21.75; 280-310 lbs. 20.25-21.25. Sows 400 lbs. and less 18.00-20.00, few under 300 lbs. to 20.50, 400-500 lbs 17.25-18.25, 500-600 lbs. 16.75-17.25.

Salable cattle 200 (estimated); compared week ago: supply 20 per cent smaller than last week when receipts were next to largest of the year to date; fed steers and yearlings predominated but killing quality a little plainer; percentage of cows increased slightly and many more cutter and utility grass bulls available; general market closed dull but prime fed steers mostly steady. Other grades weak to 50 lower; heifers fully 50 lower; cows 50 to 1.00 lower; bulls 1.00-1.50 lower; vealers weak; stockers and feeders steady to 1.00 lower, common and medium stock steers off most; load high-prime 1227 lb. fed steers 39.00, few prime loads 38.60-38.75, bulk prime steers 37.25-38.50, two loads 1417 lb. weights included at latter price, bulk to low-prime steers 34.50-37.00, good to low-choice 31.50-34.25, commercial grassers down to 28.00 and utility kinds down to 25.00; prime 1,000 lb. fed heifers 37.50, good to low-prime grades late 31.00-35.50, utility and commercial 23-50-30.00; high-utility and commercial cows on the close 26.00-30.00, bulk canner to utility cows 18.50-25.00; utility to good bulls late 26.50-30.50, week's early top 31.50; cull to prime vealers 24.00-38.00, bulk utility to choice grades 30.00-37.00; choice 425 lb. stock steer calves 40.00, mostly choice 500 lb. stockers 38.00, good 550 lb. weights 35.50, common stockers down to 26.00, good and choice 850-1050 lb. feeding steers 32.00-34.50.

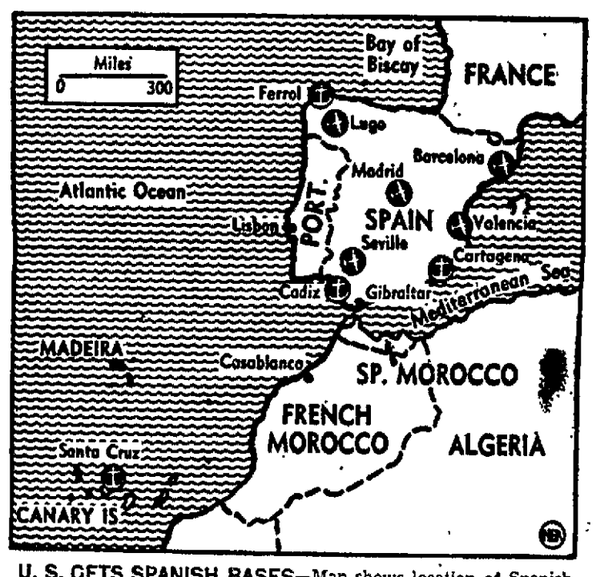

Salable sheep none; compared week ago: native spring lambs and sheep in moderate supply; lambs steady, sheep weak; old crop shorn lambs and yearlings predominated and closed 1.00 lower; spring lambs ran freely at intermountai nand southern trade centers but twelve large market receipts nearly 40,000 head under week earlier and about 25,000 under corresponding period year earlier; locally, croice to prime spring lambs topped at 32.00; going mostly to small killers; cull and utility kinds 27.00-30.00; prim eNo. 1 skin fed lambs and yearlings topped early and sparingly at 28.00; practical top 27.50; bulk 27.15-27.50; choice handy slaughter ewes 15.00; bulk utility to choice 13.00-14.50; culls 10.00-11.50, mainly 11.00.

EXPLOSION-FIRE—An explosion set off by a fire ripped away part of a wall in this building in Chicago, Illinois. The flames roared through four other business establishments in the area and injured 50 persons. A fireman was killed from a falling wall.

U. S. GETS SPANISH BASES—Map shows location of Spanish air and naval bases whose use by the U. S. in defense of western Europe has been agreed upon "in principle." The agreement was negotiated between Generalissimo Franco and Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, under strong British and French protests.

Near-Record Flood Expected to Reach St. Louis Area Tonight

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Fed by the devastating flood crest of the Missouri river, the Mississippi is expected to climb late tonight to its highest level at St. Louis in 107 years.

The predicted crest of 40½ feet at midnight tonight would be just .9 of a foot under the all-time record set June 27, 1844.

The Missouri was swollen to a width of five miles in many places. It smashed one dike after another as the crest moved the state from Kansas City, in the hardest hit area, to the point where it is emptying its grimy burden into the Mississippi 15 miles north of here.

Most of St. Louis is on high ground out of reach of the flood, but precautions were taken against a water-shortage and contamination of the supply from sewer scepage.

Takes 41 Lives

As the Missouri crest passed into the Mississippi, Maj.-Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the army engineers, reported the billion dollar flood had cost 41 lives in Kansas and Missouri.

The Missouri smashed nearly all the flood barriers near its mouth, spilling the flood over thousands of additional acres in the area where nearly 60,000 acres already was flooded.

Although the long battle to keep the waters out of the town of West Alton had been lost, most of the 300 residents stubbornly stuck to their homes.

Residents Not Worried

The water had pushed its way into at least half the homes and was running three-feet deep on some of the streets. But the townspeople in the village near the Missouri's mouth merely moved to second floors.

With the worst yet to come on the Mississippi, airmen at nearby Scott Air Force Base, Ill., were alerted for possible flood duty.

Army engineers still were confident that nearly all of the major dikes on the Mississippi downstream from St. Louis would hold.

Truman Loses Control Power; Keep Rollback

Measure Goes to Senate-House Group For Compromise

WASHINGTON, (AP) A stripped-down economic controls bill, minus most of the added features President Truman wanted, was passed by the house early today.

The measure, extending wage, price and other controls for one year, now goes to a senate-house conference committee to iron out differences between it and an eight-months extension voted by the senate. On the whole, the two differed but little on several major points; none on a few.

As the house bill finally emerged, it was a patchwork of amendments which appeared to satisfy neither Democrats nor Republicans entirely.

Given "No Break"

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said the bill does not give consumers "the break they deserved."

But administration house leaders conceded it might have been worse. They were able to snatch at least partial victory out of a fight studded with defeats over the past two weeks.

They knocked out an amendment freezing price and wage ceilings for 120 days at July 7 levels.

They succeeded in reversing a previously-adopted requirement that price ceilings on farm and manufactured goods must reflect costs plus a "reasonable profit."

Administration forces also managed to reverse an earlier house action which asusred meat packers and processors a profit on every animal processed.

Salvage Rollback

And they salvaged the recent 10 per cent rollback on live beef prices, though the house refused to grant the additional nine per cent rollbacks planned by Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle.

On several other major issues, the administration suffered stinging defeats.

Among other things, the house torpedoed Truman's repeated pleas for livestock slaughtering quotas; denied him authority to acquire and operate defense plants or create new government corporations; refused him powers to license business or regulate commodity speculation; banned the import of foreign fats and oils for two years; refused to consider farm subsidies, and slapped down a request for a new formula for figuring farm parity.

Eases Credit Controls

As finally written, the house bill eases credit controls over installment buying of automobiles, household appliances and furniture, and raises rent ceilings 20 per cent above the figure of 1947.

These were the principal actions taken when the lawmakers staggered groggily from the house chamber at 12:20 a.m. (EST) after voting final passage 323 to 92.

The concluding vote came after the house defeated, 299 to 117, a motion by Rep. Cole (R-Kan) to send the bill back to committee for further study.

On passage, only 16 Democrats and 76 Republicans voted against the measure.

Johnston Present

Stabilization Chief Johnston, who occupied a gallery seat for the finish, told reporters the house "knocked out a few of the worst inflationary pork-barrel amendments to the bill, but the consumers didn't get the break they deserved."

The bill is "much weaker" than the present law and "contains self-propelled highly inflationary provisions," he said, adding:

Prince Wasting Time Re-Wooing Rita Hayworth

NEW YORK, (AP)—Prince Aly Khan is wasting his time trying to win back his movie "queen," Rita Hayworth, says the actress' attorney.

All she wants from her Moslem husband, adds Lawyer Bartley Crum, is "a speedy divorce." She's not even asking alimony, Crum says.

Of course, Crum said yesterday in an interview, there is a matter of a trust fund for their daughter, Yasmin. The lawyer said that Miss Hayworth "thinks her daughter should receive the same treatment as the prince's sons."

"She will insist on the same trust fund as he set up for the boys" and she has not scaled down her demand, emphasized Crum.

Crum estimated that the trust fund for the boys, Aly's sons by a previous marriage to a British heiress, was $3,000,000 each. The lawyer said that whatever it is, that's the amount Rita wants for Yasmin.

Aly's ideas on the trust fund for Yasmin were not known.

RETIRING GENERAL — Lt.-Gen. Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada, one of the Air Force's top tactical commanders, plans to retire soon at the age of 47. He is reported at odds with his superiors over the role of strategic bombing. A native of Washington, D. C., he has been in the Air Force since 1924, his most recent assignment having been as commander of the joint task force that conducted atomic tests at Eniwetok this year.

'Wrong Drug' Blamed in Death Of Mother During Child Birth

DENVER—(AP)—The administration of the "wrong drug" by error was blamed today for the death of a 23-year-old Denver woman after she gave birth to her third child.

Dr. James P. Dixon, manager of health and hospitals for the city, said Ursula Martinez died June 15, after giving birth to a daughter.

"By error, a wrong drug was administered to Mrs. Martinez for the production of anaesthesia during the course of her delivery," Dr. Dixon said.

"The error was immediately discovered and all measures were taken to remedy the act."

Name Doctor

A crooner's report named Bruce M. Porter, a resident physician at Denver General hospital, as the doctor who administered the drug. Dr. Dixon said Dr. Porter was doing postgraduate work after receiving his M.D. degree.

Dr. Porter has been cleared of any charges of criminal negligence, Dr. Dixon reported, because investigation showed that the administration of the drug was "in effect, an accidental misadministration of medication."

A coroner's jury report filed by William J. R. Thornburg, deputy coroner, reported that Mrs. Martinez died "from a severe swelling of the brain and spinal cord," and continued:

"We further find that the severe swelling was a result of an accidental injection of salyrgen into the spinal cord of Mrs. Martinez."

Inherent Hazard

"It is an unfortunate tragedy which could have happened in any hospital," Dr. Dixon said. "And it is an undesirable reflection on Denver General hospital and the medical profession, but it is one of those things that is an inherent hazard in the profession."

He explained that the drug is used to stimulate kidney functions and usually is injected into the muscles and the blood stream.

"Salyrgren is packaged in an ampule that is essentially the same size, shape and color as the usual anaesthetic nupercainal, used for such cases," Dr. Dixon said.

Kept in Same Jar

"In reconstructing the accident, it appears that ampules of both types were in th medication jar where they are kept sterile until used. Although markings are different on both ampules, the doctor administering the drug to Mrs. Martinez selected the wrong one."

Dr. Dixon said Mrs. Martinez died about three hours after the drug was injected.

The child suffered no ill effects and is being cared for by her grandmother. The two surviving children are four and 30 months old.

Keeps Promise Not to Marry Until 25, Woman Gets Estate

PEORIA — (AP) — Nineteen years ago a girl promised her father she would not marry until she was 25 and agreed to care for her semi-invalid mother as she lived.

In return, her father promised to leave his entire estate to her.

Circuit Judge T. Culvertson, Jr., yesterday upheld the father's promise to the daughter, now Mrs. Kathleen Tess of Princeville, Ill. The judge ruled invalid a will made later by her father, William Rude, a well-to-do Princeville farmer.

Rude, who died in 1948, stipulated his $50,000 farm should be liquidated. He bequeathed Kathleen $1,000 and George Myers of Princeville, $500. He left another $500 to care for a pet dog.

Ninety per cent of the balance was left to the trustees of the and the remainder to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

Harry Heyl, the daughter's attorney, said Kathleen had kept her promise not to marry and cared for her mother until she died.

Judge Culbertson directed beneficiaries to return bequests to Kathleen.

Claim Russia Out To Rule Mid-East

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A state department official told congress yesterday it is "abundantly clear" that Russia is out to dominate the Middle East. He added that Europe's industry would come to a halt if the Reds ever take over the oil there.

George C. McGhee, assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern, South Asian and African affairs, expressed these views during testimony before the house foreign affairs committee on the administration's new foreign aid program.

Yanks to Celebrate AL Golden Jubilee

NEW YORK, (AP)The New York Yankees will stage a celebration Sept. 8 in connection with the American's league's golden jubilee program.

Joe McCarthy, who piloted the Yanks to pennants in 1932, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1941, 1942 and 1943, will be the honored guest.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators and Senator Manager Bucky Harris will also be present. Griffith was the Yanks' first manager while Harris guided the Yanks to a pennant in 1947.

Prior to the start of the regular game between the Yanks and Washington, a three-inning game will be played between Yanks who played under McCarthy and Yanks of other years.

Hamilton in as Pitt Grid Coach

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—In a surprise move, Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over today as head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh. Hamilton said he will serve as coach for one season only.

The former navy captain, who has been Pitt athletic director two years, replaces Len Casanova as grid coach. Casanova resigned a few days ago although he had three more years to go on his contract. Casanova, who had a poor 1-8 record with Pitt last season, left to accept a football coaching job at the University of Oregon.

build their forces depleted in the abortive April and May offensives.

Only a few hours before the negotiations recessed, an Eighth army briefing officer disclosed the Communists were now back at the strength they had when they attacked on April 22.

He estimated there were some 300,000 Red troops in the front line and immediate reserve and that about 200,000 more Communist soldiers were stationed elsewhere on the peninsula.

KING ASSASSINATED—King Abdullah of Jordan was assassinated at the historic Mosque of Omar (above) in the Arab-held "Old City" of Jerusalem where the tomb of his father lies. Abdullah flew from Jerusalem to pray at his father's tomb. As he was entering the mosque it was reported, an unidentified man stepped from behind a door and shot him.

Use Tear Gas to Dispel Riot at Air Force Dance

SACRAMENTO, Calif., (AP)—Authorities used tear gas and fire hoses to break up a riot involving more than 50 persons at a suburban swimming pool and dance hall tonight.

Sheriff's deputies reported from the scene at Eleverta that the trouble started when an estimated 150 youths tried to crash a dance sponsored by an air force unit from nearby McClellan field. Elverta is 15 miles northeast of Sacramento.

Two persons were injured seriously.

The dance floor was ripped up in the wild melee.

There were about 400 airmen and their dates at the dance.

Both McClellan and Mather Air Force base sent several bus loads of air police.

Fire departments from three towns were called to shoot streams of water into the milling crowd.

Sheriff's Depty A. S. Goodman said several carloads of rioters were taken to Sacramento for booking in the county jail.

HUGH'S VIEWS of SPORTS
BY HUGH HOUGH

By BOB HULEN

HUGH HOUGH, our amiable sports editor, has chucked his typewriter for his golf sticks today and has taken off for Princeton to play in the annual Lincoln Highway tournament under the colors of Plum Hollow. Hugh's first opponent this morning in the ten-club tournament was his good friend, Hank Henry. Hank is a tournament qualifier from the Dixon Country club.

Hugh has the tournament cinched if he pulls the same kind of stuff he did the other day at the Country club. Thursday afternoon Ben Shaw and myself were playing Hugh and City Editor Cliff Coughlin. We were two holes up going on to the fourth tee. Then it happened. Hugh hits a good drive and lands about 100 yards from the pin. He steps up with his trusty eight iron, takes a healthy cut at the ball and it bounces on the green. The next thing I knew, the ball hit the pin about 2½ feet above the ground and dropped straight down in the hole. That eagle broke the camel's back, and Ben and I barely managed to salvage low medal—by one stroke.

* * * *

AFTER HIS PLAY in the state amateur tournament, Jim Lamb of Oregon is the heavy favorite to cop the Lincoln Highway individual medal honors. Jim was the idol of the crowd at Danville in the state meet and fought gamely into the semi-finals before he was forced out of the tournament. Lamb lost to Harold Foreman on the 21st hole Thursday afternoon. Foreman had won the state title in 1944 and 1945. Lamb is playing for the Sunset Golf club in Mt. Morris in the Highway tournament.

* * * *

The competition for club honors in the Lincoln Highway meet appears to be wide open, although some area golfers give Mt. Morris a slight edge with Lamb playing the number one spot. Both Dixon clubs have well balanced teams which may put them up in among the leaders when all the strokes are counted. The Dixon Country club is the defending club. The Country club will miss Tommy Sullivan, defending medal champion, but have Ken Detweiler, who has won the tournament several times, as number one. Bill Witzleb, who has turned in some fine golf so far this year, is the leadoff man for Plum Hollow.

WE WATCHED THE TELEVISION account of the Charles-Walcott fight Wednesday night and came away wondering where Jersey Joe has kept that lethal punch all these years. Walcott has appeared to be anything but a champion in all of his fights since the second encounter with Joe Louis, but he certainly poured it on Wednesday. That punch he threw in the seventh round reminds us of the first Lois fight when he knocked old Joe down twice and left his face looking like hamburger.

Perhaps Jake Mintz, Charles' manager, knew what was in store for his protege before the fight began when he spent a half-hour demonstrating against the officials named by the Pennsylvania Athletic commission. Jake had all the flurry and finesse of a Shakespearean actor as he strode about the ring. He didn't get any curtain calls, however, and Walcott saved him the trouble of complaining about the officiating after the fight was over.

* * * *

We wish to add our humble voice to Mr. Hough's praise for Bill Corum in his column Thursday. It was a pleasure to hear Corum's comment on Wednesday's fight. Corum described the fight perfectly with color equal to the occasion. Perhaps his able job will spell an end to the screaming nonsense put forth over the air and television by Bill Stern, Don Dunphy and other announcers who like to disregard the facts.

Lincoln Highway Golfers Face Rain and Winds Besides Traps

By HUGH HOUGH
Telegraph Sports Editor

PRINCETON—Threatening skies this morning greeted the 60 golfers from 10 clubs who will battle in the 28th Lincoln Highway golf tourney this weekend at Bureau Valley Country club.

Jim Lamb, playing for Sunset Golf club of Mt. Morris, headed the field. Lamb just returned from the Illinois State Amateur tourney held in Danville where he fought his way into the semi-finals before losing, one up, to the eventual winner of the meet, Harold Foreman.

Here in Princeton, Lamb and others will be shooting not against par, but against an arbitrary figure—"bogey."

"Bogey" is par on five of the nine holes, however, and is one over par on the four tougher holes, No's. two, five, seven and nine.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY TOURNAMENT SCORE CARD

Hole	Yds.	Par	Bogey
1	274	4	4
2	526	5	5
3	458	5	5
4	276	4	4
5	221	3	4
6	129	3	3
7	422	4	5
8	317	4	4
9	385	4	5

The Bureau Valley Country club course, host to the 1951 renewal of the Lincoln Highway classic, is a tight nine-hole layout, one that figures to plenty of trouble to any of the golfers who may be a bit wild off the tee.

Each team sends six players. They compete in six different flights for individual prizes. Individual prizes also are awarded to the two golfers most up on bogey at the end of the tourney. Last year's individual winner was Tommy Sullivan of Dixon Country club, who will not defend his title this year.

Trophies also go to the best-scoring teams. The defending champion this season is Dixon Country Club. Ken Detweiler will play in the No. 1 slot on the Country club team which hopes to bring home another team trophy to add to its already large collection.

Prizes will be awarded at a dinner to be held Sunday evening at the conclusion of the tourney. Dinner reservation must be made by Sunday morning, according to tourney officials.

Spectators are welcomed to witness the tourney by club officials. There is no admission charge.

Dixon Tennis Team Faces Clinton

Results Sunday Decide Title in South Division

The Beler's tennis team of Dixon plays host to Clinton Sunday at the South Side courts in a match that will determine the Southern division champion. The matches will start at 2 p.m.

Both teams now have perfect 2-0 records. Sunday's winner will meet the champion of the Northern division next Sunday in the inter-division playoffs.

Team Capt. George Covert said today, "We expect plenty of trouble from Clinton. We had to go all out last year before beating them 6 to 3 and I expect them to be rougher this season."

Covert, hampered by a leg injury for most of this season, may assign himself double-duty in this important match if Al Newcomer does not return from vacation in time to play. Covert has restricted his action to the doubles in previous matches, but he will play in the singles against Clinton if Newcomer does not appear.

Other singles starters are expected to be George and Floyd Acker, Dave Livingston, Dick Joslyn and Don Russell.

Doubles combinations for Dixon will be the Acker brothers, Lew Behrens and Bob Wiggins and Covert and Livingston.

"I am counting on the Acker brothers and Livingston to win their singles matches and if they do we should be able to hold our own in the doubles," Covert said today.

Dixon's team was considerably weakened this season by the loss of veteran players. Along with Covert, Behrens and Wiggins have played only in doubles competition, and Ted Mason has not been available at all.

Mason has been busy studying dentistry. In another year he will be known as Dr. Mason to his former teammates.

'Lippy' Signs Pact

NEW YORK, (AP)—Leo Durocher has signed a one-year contract to manage the New York Giants again in 1952.

Durocher, who inked the pact yesterday, said:

"I'm very happy about the new contract. As far as I'm concerned, I've never worked for any other club."

NEW WHITE SOX CATCHER—Sam Hairston, 26, was recalled from Sacramento (Cal.) of the Pacific Coast league by the White Sox to bolster the team's catching corps. Two of Sox catchers are injured. Hairston is the second Negro to join the club in Chicago.

NCAA Modified TV Code for Us, Says Penn. U.

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—University of Pennsylvania capitulated to the National Collegiate Athletic association television plan because the NCAA modified it, says Penn's athletic director Francis T. Murray.

Unreachable for almost 20 hours after NCAA President Hugh C. Willett announced in Los Angeles that Penn had reversed its stand, Murray issued a statement yesterday.

The statement said:

"At the Chicago meeting of the television committee, the NCAA plan was changed for the better in two important provisions which Pennsylvania had protested on June 7.

"1. The committee dropped its attempt to act as the agent for all of the colleges and universities in television contracts and agreed that contracts should be made by the institutions themselves.

"2. The committee also abandoned its proposal of making an arbitrary levy of 60 per cent on television proceeds and agreed that only the committee's approved expenses should be paid by the members."

Opinion here is Penn was pressured to give in. The university faced the probable loss of half its 1951 football schedule if it continued to defy the NCAA.

Murray said he requested permission to televise five games so Penn could carry out in parts its television contract with the American Broadcasting company. Penn had contracted with ABC to telecast all eight home games for a reported $200,000.

The NCAA plan adopted last January calls for varying limitations on football telecasts in an effort to determine the effect of TV on attendance and gate receipts. The plan would black out certain areas, permit some network telecasting, some regional TV and some local video.

Walcott's Manager Says Joe Louis Wants Next Title Bout

CAMDEN, N. J.—(AP)—The only thing certain about the heavyweight boxing picture today is that Jersey Joe Walcott is champion and that he has a very prosperous future.

Walcott is committed by contract to give Ezzard Charles a return shot at the title in New York.

But the big question marks suddenly appeared, fogging the heavyweight horizon. Will Walcott fight Charles next? Or will the new champion risk boxing's most coveted crown in the ring with the old brown bomber, Joe Louis? And then will Charles meet the winner of this match?

The answer might come from Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing club that has exclusive rights to Walcott, Charles and Louis.

Bocchicchio Wants Louis

Up until yesterday, when Walcott was greeted by 100,000 wildly cheering neighbors here on his return from Pittsburgh where he lifted the title Wednesday, it appeared certain that the next big heavyweight fight would be a fourth Walcott-Charles meeting. Only the date and site were indefinite with New York, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Atlantic City, N. J., and Philadelphia mentioned as possible locations.

Then Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, let loose a statement that packed almost as much dynamite as the left hook that Walcott used to kayo Charles. Bocchicchio said Joe Louis had asked for the first crack at Walcott's title.

Said Bocchicchio:

"I told Joe it was okay with me if it was okay with the International Boxing club. Louis gave us two shots at the title. I think we owe it to him. Walcott will be glad to oblige Louis if Norris and IBC say okay."

Denial By Joe

Louis denied in Detroit that he had talked with anybody about a title fight but said, "I sure hope it's so." The Brown Bomber declared he was ready to fight Walcott at any time but that he really thought Charles deserved the first chance. "He's entitled to it. But, he does need a rest. He's been fighting too much," added Louis.

The only comment from the IBC was from Harry Markson, the club's managing director. He said Norris told him the only fight he was working on was a return bout between Walcott and Charles.

What has the Charles camp to say about all this? The only comment was from the volatile Jack Mintz, currently under suspension by the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission for arguing over judges prior to last Wednesday's title fight.

"Any report that Walcott will give Louis the first shot is a lot of baloney. We have an ironclad contract with Walcott for Ezzard to have first crack."

Oregon Dairy Tops Byron 15-3; Tied With Lindquists

OREGON—The Oregon Dairy team walked over Byron last night by a 15 to 3 score, gaining a first place tie in the Oregon City league with the Dixon Lindquists.

The Dairymen will face the Linquists on Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. at Oregon field in the battle for first place. Ed Poore, who is undefeated in league play at Oregon, will pitch for the Lindquists. Either Hank Johnson or Bud Nordum will start for Oregon.

Nordman pitched well for Oregon last night although he was tagged by Hendee, Byron third baseman, for a home run in the third inning. Palmer started for Byron and was replaced by Stockwell in the fifth after an Oregon rally.

Byron is now in second place in the City league.

Getting Rough!

Busby, Minoso Find Stealing Bases Tougher

CHICAGO, (AP) — A pair of Chicago White Sox rookies, Jim Busby and Orestes "Minnie" Minoso, used to take stolen bases like they were free, but they're getting harder to get.

Busby still leads the American league with 18 successful thefts and Minoso is next in line with 16. They have been in the top and runnerup spots nearly all season.

But things aren't what they used to be in the early part of the season. Busby, for example, stole 10 the first month. But he pilfered only one between June 24 and July 18.

Minoso got his 16th last night as the Sox were losing to Washington 2-1. But his baseline successes have been rare recently, too.

The reason for their slowdown in base stealing, both agree, is extra caution—on their part and on the part of the other American league teams.

Pitchers Rougher

"The pitchers simply are getting rougher," says young centerfielder Busby. "They know Minnie and I are liable to go down the line on them any time and they keep an eye on us.

"They try to pick us off and they keep pestering us so we stay in close to the bag. And you'll find them throwing a lot of fast balls to the guys that bat behind us, so their catchers can have more time for their throws to the bases, in case we try to steal."

"Another thing," chimes in Minoso, "We (the team) aren't hitting like we used to. That's what Paul (Manager Paul Richards) says."

The muscular Cuban, who plays either the outfield or third base for the Sox, indicated that Richards has advised extreme wariness in attempting steals.

Wight Big Problem

Richards, Busby and Minoso agree on their biggest problem in trying to make a success of base thievery. It's pitcher Bill Wight, former White Sox lefthander now with the Boston Red Sox.

And all three claim that Wight is violating the rules when he either picks Sox runners off first base or keeps them so apprehensive they barely budge off the bag on his windup.

Minoso and Busby also are experts now on the catchers who make base stealing most hazardous.

"Jim Hegan (of Cleveland) is as good as any," says Minnie.

"Sure, Hegan's awfully fast with that throw," agrees Busby. "But for my money, those two St. Louis catchers (Matt Batts and Sherman Lollar are the sharpest. Their throws are always right there—fast and low."

Busby Speeds Too

Busby didn't add that you have to have a lot of speed in your feet, too. And he definitely has that. The former Texas Christian athlete from Corpus Christi, Tex., ran a 9.8-second hundred yard dash in college.

He's probably the fastest man in baseball today, with Minoso right on his heels.

But both are resigned to a recession in the thievery business from here on out. They've become too notorious.

FRIDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Tom Morgan, Yanks and Mike Garcia, Cleveland. Morgan pitched Yanks to 1-0 three-hit victory over St. Louis and Garcia hurled Indians to 1-0 ten-inning four-hit victory over Philadelphia.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Blackhawks at Dixon.
Mattress at Sycamore.
Genoa at Kingston.

Rockford's Blackhawk AC baseball team moves into Dixon Sunday afternoon with no other mission in mind than the capturing of the second-place spot in the Northern Illinois league standings currently held by Dixon.

Game time is 2:30 p.m. at Reynolds field.

For Dixon, the most important duty will be to win the game in order to stay in second place and also to stay within shouting distance of the league-leading Sycamore Sons. The Sons, who travel to Dixon next Sunday, currently have a 5-0, league record.

Dixon will be protecting a 4-3 listing, while the Blackhawks are playing 3-3 baseball in the Northern Illinois league.

One of the Dixon losses was administered by this same Blackhawk club only a few weeks ago in a game marked by frequent arguments and even the banishment of a Dixon player.

In other league games Sunday, Rockford Mattress will travel to Sycamore for a game with the undefeated ones and Genoa meets a revitalized Kingston team that upset Dixon last Sunday.

Against the Blackhawks, Mgr. Lou Bevilacqua once again will have a wide assortment of starting pitchers from which to choose. Either Ronnie Sitter, John Maynard or John Howe is likely to be the starter.

Roberts, Pontiac Teams Victors in Amvet Loop Play

Hal Roberts defeated the Dixon Recreation and Terminal Pontiac won over the Zeien Buick team in games played in the Amvet Junior league Friday.

Both games were minor league contests. No major league games were played. The score of the morning game was Hal Roberts 9, Dixon Recreation 6 and of the afternoon game Terminal Pontiac 17, Zeien Buick 14.

The game between Barrick Cattle and Coss Icecycles was postponed as neither club could field a team.

Amboy Merchants Play W. Brooklyn

The Amboy Merchants baseball team and West Brooklyn will tangle tomorrow at the field in West Brooklyn. In the last meeting of the two clubs, the game went 17 innings.

Amboy will start Full while West Brooklyn is expected to have Eckhart doing the pitching.

Amboy won over Leland 10-6 in a game played last Sunday. Since then the Merchants have been idle. West Brooklyn lost to Earlville Friday night 8-5.

Women's Net Team To Play Clinton

The Elks Woman's tennis team will play a team from Clinton here Sunday at the north side courts. The matches will start at 2 p. m.

Those playing for Dixon will be Emma Hubbs, captain, Eleanor Stevens, Mary Gibson, Nancy Long, Jean Buckley and Barbara Buckley.

Five Points Between AL Leaders

BY RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

.005.

That insignificant figure is the difference between first and fourth place in the sizzling American league pennant race today.

The Boston Red Sox lead by two percentage points. The Chicago White Sox were second, the New York Yankees third and the Cleveland Indians fourth.

Here's the situation in a nut shell:

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Boston	52	35	.598	—
Chicago	53	36	.596	—
New York	50	34	.595	½
Cleveland	51	35	.593	½

The race tightened up considerably last night as both the White Sox and Red Sox lost while the Yanks and Indians won squeakers.

Boston dropped a 6-1 decision to the Detroit Tigers while the White Sox lost a 2-1 ten-inning battle to the Washington Senators. The Yanks edged the St. Louis Browns, 1-0, and the Indians nipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 1-0, in ten innings.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers retained their eight-game lead in the National league. The Dodgers defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2, as the New York Giants trounced the Cincinnati Reds, 11-5, the Philadelphia Phils knocked off the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 11 innings and the Boston Braves humbled the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6.

Marlin Stuart, 32-year-old right-hander, made his first start of the season and shackled the Red Sox on six hits before 45,653 fans at Detroit.

Stuart Tops Boston

Stuart, called up late in May from Toledo, slipped his newly-developed slider past the Boston sluggers without trouble except for the sixth inning when singles by Lou Boudreau and Billy Goodman scored a run.

The Tigers hopped on Chuck Stobbs for five runs and the ball game in the fourth inning. Jerry Priddy, George Kell, Vic Wertz and Johnny Groth opened the inning with successive singles. One out later, Hoot Evers and Bob Swift singled and after Stuart forced Groth at the plate, Neil Berry clouted a two-run single.

Chicago was one out away from regaining first place. The White Sox led, 1-0, going into the ninth and Lou Kretlow retired the first two hitters. Ed Yost singled and Gil Coan whacked a double, his fourth hit of the game, to tie the score. The Senators, beaten ten straight times by Chicago, won out in the tenth on singles by Mickey Vernon, Sam Mele and Cass Michaels' run-scoring ground out.

Young Tom Morgan won a brilliant pitching duel from little Ned Garver, Brownie ace, at St. Louis. Morgan permitted three singles while Garver was tapped for six hits.

Browns Draw Crowd

The Browns' largest crowd of the season, 15,242 fans, witnessed the well pitched game. The Yanks broke a scoreless tie in the eighth. Morgan started the rally with a single. Phil Rizzuto singled Morgan to second and the rookie righthander scored two outs later on a single by Bobby Brown.

In the pitching gem at Cleveland, Bob Avila doubled Dale Mitchell home from first base with two out in the tenth. It was the second game in a row Avila has won.

Sam Zoldak, former Indian, and Mike Garcia battled all the way. Zoldak allowed eight hits while Garcia checked Philadelphia on four.

Lefty Preacher Roe turned in his 13th victory as the Dodgers made it seven straight over the Cardinals before 30,683 at Brooklyn.

Home runs by Enos Slaughter and Wally Westlake accounted for all of St. Louis' runs.

Giants Over Reds

Home runs by Willie Mays and Sal Yvars featured the Giants' victory over the Reds. Mays drove in four runs, three on a home run in the eighth inning. Yvars connected with one on in the seventh. The triumph moved the Giants into second place eight games behind the Dodgers and one ahead of the Cards.

Boston also piled up an early lead in smearing the Pirates. The Braves hacked Vern Law for six runs in the first inning and added three more in the second. Ralph Kiner smashed a 390 foot homer for Pittsburgh's first run in the fourth inning. The belt was Kiner's 24th, four behind Brooklyn's Gil Hodges.

Pirate outfielder Erv Dusak suffered a separated left shoulder while driving to make a shoestring catch in the second inning. He will be sidelined from four to six weeks.

Richie Ashburn singled with the bases loaded and one out in the 11th to give the Phils the nod over the Cubs.

Battleground Favored in 23rd Running of Arlington Classic

CHICAGO—(AP)—A field of 13 three-year-old stars who have been defeating one another this 1951 racing season, matched strides again today for $81,300 in the 23rd running of the Arlington classic.

With the lightning fast strip of recent days prevailing the stake record of 2:01 2/5 set by Omaha in 1935 and equaled by Shut Out in 1942 is in danger. The winner of the 1¼ mile event will net $62,975.

Favorite is George D. Widener's Battlefield, 1950 juvenile champion, who has collected at least a slice of each purse in his 21 starts. The veteran Eddie Arcaro came from the east to ride Battlefield. On July 4 Arcaro rode Royal Governor to victory in the Stars and Stripes handicap.

In a poll of 16 writers yesterday, Battlefield was the choice of eight to win the classic. Five experts selected Rough'n Tumble, while two picked Brownell Combs' Bernwood.

Charles W. Dunkley, Associated Press veteran, ricked Ruhe, owned by Mrs. Emil Denemark, of Chicago, to haul down the classic's top money. Ruhe was third in the Kentucky Derby and victorious in the Arkansas Derby.

Attendance was expected to hit 35,000 to watch the largest field since 1934 when 13 also started.

Other classic candidates include:

Greentree's pair of Big Stretch and Hall of Fame Ted Atkinson, one of the nation's outstanding jockeys, will be aboard Hall of Fame, winner of the Leonard Richards and Kent stakes.

Sam E. Wilson's entry of Royal Mustang, second in the Kentucky Derby and Bugledrums, listed at 8 to 1.

George Gerber's Spur On, a local horse, claimed from Calumet Farm.

The field is completed by Edward Potter jr.'s Longleat; William M. Peavey's Sir Bee Bum; King Ranch's Sonic, and Mrs. J. P. Keczek's Abbe Sting.

Dread Down Grain? The new M&M G-4 Harvester meets all harvesting conditions. Auger takes grain through without any trouble. For complete satisfaction try the M&M G-4 HARVESTER. We have one on display.

BALO-MATIC
One man operation. Wire tied bales that don't come loose. Out of the experimental stage. Just read the following features of the Balo-Matic:

1. Bale chamber is of all steel welded construction.
2. The all steel welded plunger with oil-impregnated hardwood slides operated on machined adjustable rails to insure long life.
3. Bale chambers are equipped with tension adjustments to regulate the density and weight of uniform bales from 60 to 90 lbs.
4. Equipped with automatic metering wheel to provide a uniform bale length of approximately 35, 40 or 45 inches.
5. The packer head and arms of all steel welded construction place hay evenly in the baling chambers to provide uniform layers in the bales.
6. Each bale is automatically tied with two strands of steel wire, while hay is under compression.
7. Knife steel shear blade assembled to rear top of plunger for slicing to provide easy separation of layers in the bale.
8. The baler is driven by a 4-cylinder air-cooled engine through a slip type 4-inch endless cord belt to plunger crank flywheel.
9. All drive shafts are mounted on high grade roller bearings or bronze bushings.
10. Plunger and countershaft, drive gears run in oil in an enclosed housing, insuring long life.

To see all these features on one baler, we have one on display.

We also have ON DISPLAY:
4 new M&M 8 ft. Windrowers.
1 new M&M "69" 6 ft Combine.
Trailer type Tractor Mowers, 7 ft. with 2 rubber tired rear wheels.

LEGAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF SCHOOL ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that on the 31st day of July, 1951, a special election will be held in School District No. 34, Lee County, Illinois, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said School District the following proposition, viz.:

Shall the maximum tax rate for the educational fund of School District No. 34, Lee County, Illinois, be established at .75 per cent on full, fair cash value instead of .40 per cent, the maximum rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended?

This Board estimates that the approximate amount of taxes extendible for educational purposes under the proposed rate is $2,256.90; and that the approximate amount of taxes extendible for educationable purposes under the maximum rate otherwise applicable is $1,203.68.

POLLING PLACE

That for the purpose of said special election, the polling place will be located in the Duis Public School Building, in said School District, at which place all legal voters residing within said School District shall vote.

The polls at such election will be opened at 1:00 o'clock p. m. and closed at 3:00 p. m. on said date.

Dated this 20th day of July, 1951.

By order of the Board of Directors of School District No. 34, Lee County, Illinois.

GEORGE E. PITZER,
President, Board of Directors of School District No. 34, Lee County, Illinois.

Statues Come Clean in This Contest As Soap Gets in the Judges' Eyes

NEW YORK —(NEA)—Eavesdropping on a jury at work is an instructive and educational pastime. Even if the jury is only jurying about soap sculpture.

This was a collection of sculptors, artists and art teachers judging the 24th annual National Soap Sculpture Contest. They were an arty group—shirt-sleeved, pipe-smoking, mustached. Except the women jurors, of course.

On five double-tiered tables were the entries, resting in all their chiseled glory against a pale orange backdrop. It's amazing what can be done to a cake of soap. Animals, houses, groups of people, portraits, abstractions, flowers and something that looked like Dagmar but turned out to be "Basket Weavers In Repose" were among the creations.

The jurors swept down in aisles, picking out the entries they liked for judging.

* * *

One juror picked up an egg-like sculpture. He turned it around and held it to the light.

"It had an idea, but it lost it somewhere," he said.

Another one picked up the same thing.

"Very rhythmic," she said.

They explained that the entries could be carved out of more than one cake of soap, but most soap-

BUFFALO SOAP: This was the junior class first prize winner in the 24th National Soap Sculpture Contest. It was carved by Dale G. Dalby, 12, of Amarillo, Tex.

slicers preferred to use just one. Soap is a fine medium for a beginning sculptor, they pointed out, because if they louse up a work they can always use it around the house.

"More and more laundry is being done with used statues," said a juror.

Another juror had discovered an interesting thing on one of the tables. It was sort of a stylized paper clip.

"I like the back better than the front," he said, turning it around.

"Well," said another, "backs are always better."

They moved on to a group of dachshunds.

"That's rather amusing," a juror said. "There's not enough humor in sculpture anyway."

Another juror went back to the paper clip and studied it thoughtfully for a few moments.

"It's a little too non-representative for me," he said and put it back.

* * *

A few of them grouped around a thing that looked like a cheese omelet with the hives.

"Study it carefully, one urged, "it's very conservative."

"A little overdone, isn't it?" said another.

"I must confess I don't get anything from that," said a third, turning back to the dachshunds.

Two others were studying a pair of statuettes, representing Adam and Eve. Eve looked fetching in her 88 44/100 per cent pure nudity.

"I wish Adam didn't look so despondent," one of them said.

"He had a right to look despondent," the other answered, with a philosophical chuckle.

When all the picking, debating and voting was over, the winner of the senior class turned out to be something called "Boys Fighting," Peace Flighting," by Edward Anthony, of Detroit, Mich.

"Don't tell anybody," one of them whispered to another, "but isn't that chipped a little?"

It was, but nobody seemed to mind.

Compton WSCS Had Luncheon On Wednesday

Compton—The Woman's Society of Christian Service entertained at a luncheon Wednesday, July 11. Eighty women were present from Pawpaw, West Brooklyn, Mendota and Compton. Pauline Holdren, her committee, and several volunteers served the luncheon.

After lunch the group went to the sanctuary and a business session was held. It was decided that the society will serve refreshments for a Seed Corn demonstration to be held at the Harvey Rhoads home Friday evening, July 20. The next meeting will be a picnic at Marion Archer's home, Aug. 7. An ice cream social will be held Wednesday, Aug. 8.

The program in charge of Mary K. Miller, was an imaginary broadcast. After a welcome to the guests, action songs were sung. Rita Archer sang the opening number, "Bless This House." Mary K. Miller, master of ceremonies, read her mail which contained jokes sent in by WSCS members.

The Compton Studio Art players presented a skit entitled "Mellerdrama." The more serious part of the program was presented by Kathryn Moore, spiritual life chairman, who used as her topic, "The Fifth Gospel."

The "Sleeping Fisherman," a short skit, was given by the Young Adults Hamactors. "The African Violet Bug" was read and Marlene Johnson played two selections on her accordion. Rita Archer closed the broadcast with "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Circle One

Circle One of the WSCS met at the church parlors Thursday evening, July 12, with sixteen members present.

The topic of the program was the history of Lee county. Viola Bradley told about the early settlements in Lee county. Rita Archer talked on Lee Center. Lucille Bauer informed the group about the early history of West Brooklyn, and Mary K. Miller related many interesting incidents about Malugin's Grove and Compton. Members of the group added other early happenings.

Each member then made a small stocking for the Penny-a-Month.

Refreshments were served by Pauline Holdren, Mildred Eggers and Maxine Gilmore.

A meeting of Circle One was held recently at the home of Mrs. Mabel Cook.

Mrs. Viola Bradley, program chairman, presented Nellie Bernardin who displayed African violets. She then told about the culture and care of the violets.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mabel Cook, Mrs. Lucille Bauer and Mrs. Rita Archer.

Cub Scouts

Den Mothers, Mrs. Maxine Gilmore, took the scouts of den to DeKalb to swim Monday afternoon. Those who went were Jim Bradshaw, Clyde Estes, Oscar Countryman, Gene Walter and Gary Gilmore. Bathing suit bags made at the last meeting were used.

Achievement Day

The annual 4-H Achievement day will be held Tuesday, July 24, at 2 p. m. in the social room of the Methodist church. Everyone is invited.

U. S. to Send Aid Into Flood Zone

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Agriculture department and the department of internal revenue are taking a hand in relief efforts in the flood-damaged areas of Missouri and Kansas.

The Agriculture department announced yesterday it will help supply farmers in the flood zone with emergency livestock feed.

And Revenue Commissioner George J. Schoeneman said in a statement that property losses resulting from the floods "will ordinarily be deductible for federal income tax purposes."

The United States consumes approximately 40,000,000 loaves of bread every day.

Justice Department to Probe Case of One-Legged Swindler

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Justice department today promised prompt study of the case of pudgy Sam Mason, accused by senators of being a slick confidence man who bilked victims of thousands of dollars.

Senator Mundt (R-SD) said meanwhile that he hopes the department and the internal revenue bureau will concentrate on Mason's testimony to senate investigators that he has filed no income tax returns for more than 20 years.

Mason said he didn't file because he never had any money left over at the end of the year.

Time Is Ripe

Mundt, a member of the senate committee which investigated Mason's bizarre activities, declared to reporters that "conditions in the country at present are conducive to creation of a swindler's paradise."

The South Dakota lawmaker said he will urge the inquiry committee to issue a report "warning the public against get-rich-quick schemes." He added:

"The story we got from Mason may already have put ideas in the heads of people who generate such schemes."

Mason, a New Yorker, told the committee yesterday he draws about $195 a month in government compensation for a leg he lost in World War I. This was confirmed by the Veterans Administration.

Mason acknowledged under oath that he collected about $88,000 from five "clients" who testified Thursday they paid him up to $260,000.

Admitted Promises

He admitted the money he got was in return for his promises that he would obtain bargain leases on "surplus" government buildings which could be sub-leased at a big profit. Another promise was to obtain business contracts in government and private industry.

Mason said he himself never made any direct effort to make good on those promises. He said he turned a big chunk of the money over to a mysterious "Mr. Eungart," whom he described as an influential man "who knew the right people" in Washington.

Will Be Back?

Eungart, Mason said, was to help him meet the promises he had made. The committee said it had been unable to find Eungart. Mason said he understood, Eungart was in Australia but might be back next month.

Two priests of the Greek Catholic church in New York told the committee they paid Mason between $150,000 and $200,000 to get their Order of St. Basil leases on federal buildings. They said they got nothing in return.

Convict Koreans, Japs for Spying

TOKYO —(AP)— Fifteen Koreans and two Japanese, convicted Friday of conspiracy to commit espionage, were sentenced today to prison terms ranging from one to 10 years.

They were sentenced by an Allied international provost court, after a trial which began last May 11. Twenty-eight other defendants will be tried soon.

There are about 20,000 trailers, or "caravans" as they are known, in use in England.
